Tigers-Washington Contest Tonight

A real battle appears in the making tonight when Circleville's Tigers entertain the Blue Lions of Washington C. H. on the Red and Black gridiron.

The Tigers, looking like a new team in their last two outings, are pointing to this game. After losing five in a row, then bouncing back to beat Rock Hill and tie mighty Greenfield, the locals are expected to retain their new look tonight.

Heavy rains last night have made the local gridiron a slippery plot of ground. However, the muddy conditions are reminiscent of games played in the past with arch-rival Washington.

Washington will bring a record of four wins and four losses to town compared to a slate of one win, one tie and five defeats compiled by the Tigers.

LATEST reports from Washington indicate that the Blue Lions have been concentrating on a passing attack for tonight's encounter. Heretofore the visitors have relied mainly on a strong ground game. Washington coaches scouted Tuesday night's contest with Greenfield and were more than surprised with what they saw in view of the five straight defeats the Tigers had suffered. Greenfield downed the Blue Lions, 14-0.

All but about four members of the 1948-49 Circleville High School football team are scheduled to take part in a reunion tonight during the game.

The reunion, sponsored by the Circleville Booster Club, will honor members of the first CHS team to win a South Central Ohio League Championship.

Nine years ago the 1948-49 squad, coached by Steve Brudinski and Tom Bennett, climaxed an undefeated season by blasting the same Blue Lions, 16-13, at Washington. It was the only loss suffered by WCH that year.

In yesterday's roundup on members of the 1948-49 squad, The Herald inadvertently missed the name of Ronnie Hennis, team captain. Hennis, a fiery guard, earned a first team all-league position for his efforts that year.

According to Booster Club officials the grid veterans will be introduced during halftime.

Civil Rights Panel Facing Thorny Task

6-Man Study Group To Be Headed by Ex-Justice Reed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's selection of the members of the new Civil Rights Commission opened the way today for an early start on its thorny task of seeking to prevent racial discrimination.

The difficulties confronting the six-member commission, provided for by the Civil Rights Act passed by Congress last August, have since been underscored by the inflamed feeling aroused by the school integration controversy in Little Rock.

Eisenhower, who only recently said he was having trouble finding men of the caliber and stature he wanted, announced the appointment late Thursday.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed is chairman.

The appointments are subject to confirmation when Congress reconvenes. Meantime the members, armed with power to subpoena witnesses, can swing into action as soon as they get organized.

Still to be named by Eisenhower, also subject to Senate confirmation, is a fulltime staff director at $22,500 a year.

REED SAID he had no immediate plans for starting the commission's operations. As a justice, he joined in the Supreme Court's unanimous ruling in 1954 that racial segregation of public schools was unconstitutional.

Named as vice chairman was John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and a former assistant secretary of defense.

Other members are John S. Battle, former governor of Virginia; J. Ernest Wilkins, a Negro and an assistant secretary of Labor; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame; and Robert G. Storey, dean of the law school at Southern Methodist University.

The White House listed Reed, Battle and Storey as Democrats, Hannah and Wilkins as Republicans and Hesburgh as a political independent. The law requires that not more than three be from any one political party.

In East Lansing, Mich., Hannah said he has "no magic solution" to the civil rights problem, but "I have agreed to do my best to help meet it in any way I can."

In Charlottesville, Va., Battle said he was told Eisenhower wanted a member "with the strong Southern viewpoint which I have." He accepted, he said, hoping to "contribute to a better understanding of a problem which is disrupting our country."

Commission members not already on the government payroll will receive $50 a day plus expenses for the time they work.

Reuther Urges Revision of U.S. Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Walter Reuther urges a revision of U.S. foreign policy to provide what he called greater moral "leadership" in the H-bomb age.

The United Auto Workers Union leader spoke Thursday at the sixth National Conference on UNESCO, the largest conference on Asia ever held in this country.

Some 1,500 delegates split today into panels to discuss aspects of the theme "Asia and the United States: What the American Citizen Can Do to Promote Mutual Understanding and Cooperation."

Another speaker, Stanley C. Ailyn, criticized the economic techniques of Americans. Ailyn is chairman of the conference.

Reuther urged a foreign policy revision "to provide greater leadership in the world." He said that "particularly we must provide greater moral leadership, for the crisis under the shadow of the H-bomb is essentially moral."

"You can't win the struggle for the hearts and minds of mankind with a bigger H-bomb," he said.

"The H-bomb and two Soviet satellites orbiting overhead — put there by intercontinental ballistic rockets — have reduced all mankind to a common human denotation. Until we understand this you and I are in trouble."

Communism is making its greatest headway in Asia and Africa, where most of the world's peoples—and the poorest—are found, he said.

Community Fund Tops Goal! Total Collection $29,230

A highly-successful Pickaway County Community Fund campaign, which went "over the top" by $530, ended today.

Total collections in the drive stood at $29,230.86 after last night's final tabulation. However, more checks are expected which will put the fund in even better financial condition.

Topper was a $750 check from Lockbourne Air Force Base yesterday. Until receipt of the check it was felt the fund would fall short by a small amount.

With the Lockbourne gift, the fund hit 101.8 per cent of the $28,700 goal — the second time within three years that the Community Fund had made its goal.

The fund supports five county-wide agencies — the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen. The fine support of the Community Fund by the entire county assured continued operation of those agencies for next year.

Nearly every division hit its goal. Industrial collections were $13,102.74 as compared to a $13,000 goal. The county turned in $5,073.86, which topped the $5,000 goal. Business collections were $3,775 with a $3,200 goal.

Residential gifts totaled $2,609.26 just short of the $2,800 goal and special groups fell short, collecting $4,670 of a $4,700 goal.

The $750 check from Lockbourne came as a surprise to fund officials. They had made a request for participation in the base's fund drive because part of the base is in Pickaway County and several hundred base personnel reside in Pickaway County and use its services.

Yesterday Fund president E. G. Grigg, and campaign co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mason, were called to the base to receive the money.

Final reports were made at a meeting last night. All books were checked and the "over-the-top" total was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason today said, "We want to thank everyone who in any way helped make the Community Fund campaign a success." They said it is impossible to thank individually all those who contributed to the fund's successful drive.

Although the initial campaign drive, two years ago, was a success, the goal was several thousand dollars under this year's record goal. Last year's drive was short by 15 per cent.

Louisiana Feels Hardest Punch With 7 Killed

Texas, Mississippi Also Lashed by Storm: Injury List Tops 100

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tornadoes lashed their twisting fury on three Gulf states today with 14 known dead in Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

Seven died in Louisiana, three in Texas and two in Mississippi. More than 100 persons were injured.

A baby tornado struck near Selma, Ala., and picked up small buildings and cars, but causing no reported injuries.

The storms hit hardest at Alexandria, La., where three persons were killed Thursday night in the 10-block residential section. A couple died at Carencro, La., and two men were killed in a cotton gin in the community of Higginbotham near Crowley, La.

Rescue teams poked through wreckage today in a search for more victims.

The Texas deaths included two at Groves and one at Orange while the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parker were found some distance from their house after the twister ripped through Greenwood, Miss.

The Parkers' bodies were found clasped together and it appeared Parker was trying to shield his wife when the storm tossed them through the air.

The storms hit communities throughout South Central Louisiana with heavy rains and high winds accompanying them.

Power facilities and communications were disrupted in several communities. Alexandria and Crowley were both without lights for part of the night.

When the community of Iota in Southern Louisiana, two tornadoes struck within two hours. State police are searching for more victims.

Engine Troubles Stall Polar Flights

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—More engine trouble delayed flights to the South Pole today.

Lt. Robert Bolling of Ft. Crook, Neb., made a hazardous forced landing on the ice airfield here after his Navy Neptune patrol bomber developed engine trouble a few minutes after takeoff.

Two of Bolling's 12 passengers were on a Navy DC3 that lost the use of one engine halfway to the pole Thursday. It made an emergency landing at a way station.

Another Neptune stalled at the pole Oct. 26, stranding 10 men there. So far bad weather and engine failures have prevented sending spare parts for repairs.

Radioactivity Tied to UFO

Geauga Countian Sticks To His 'Saucer' Story

CHARLTON (AP)—A Geauga County resident is sticking to his story of seeing an unidentified flying object (UFO) shooting flames to earth in the county although the object has not been found.

In a statement to Sheriff Louis Robusky Thursday night, Olden Moore of near Hutsburg said he saw the object, emitting bluish-green flames, land in a field near Montville about 11 p.m. Wednesday as he was driving home from Painesville.

He said he watched the object a few minutes, then hurried to his home six miles away to get his wife to show it to her, but that when they returned about 30 minutes later the object was gone.

Moore described the object as being as "big as a house" and resting on a cone. He said it made a whirring noise similar to the sound of an electric motor. He made a sketch of the object to accompany his statement.

The object was first reported to the sheriff by Moore's wife on Thursday.

SEVERAL OTHER reports of UFOs being sighted over the Char-don area were received by the sheriff Thursday night.

Kenneth Locke of Eastlake, a Civil Defense official, spent Thursday going over the field along Ohio 86 where the object was reported to have landed.

He said he picked up radioactivity of 150 roentgen strength in an area 150 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Humans can stand 240 roentgens, Locke said.

He said that obviously the radioactivity, which he described as "pretty strong," did not come from a permanent deposit of radioactive material such as uranium as the reading was much smaller when he checked the area a second time.

Locke, the sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Robert Ford found no trace of the object in an all-day search of the area.

Veterinarians Aid Humans with Curbs

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—By controlling diseases common to animals, veterinarians set up a barrier against transmitting such ailments to man, Dr. R. E. Rebrassier of Columbus, Ohio, president-elect of the American Veterinary Medical Assn., says.

Dr. Rebrassier said now that farmers are raising more animals on fewer acres they need more veterinary service and there is a shortage of doctors to provide it.

He said the 500 veterinarians being added each year should be doubled if the nation is to have all the services required.

U. S. Set To Make High Energy Fuel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A scientist revealed today that the United States soon will attain substantial production of boron-hydrogen high energy fuels, compounds which some sources suspect were the new type rocket power Soviet Russia says it used to fire Sputnik II into space.

"Project Zip" was the code name assigned to the research by the Navy in 1952. It earlier had been classified as secret.

These compounds are among the so-called exotic fuels now being studied as power sources. They are produced by chemically combining the elements boron and hydrogen. Such compounds are very rare in nature but each of the elements is plentiful in other compounds. Boron, for instance, in the oxide form borax which has been used as household cleanser for many years. Hydrogen is easily obtainable from the air or from water. The U. S. has very large borax deposits.

Pilot plant production of boron-hydrogen compounds has been underway for some time at the plant of Callery Chemical Co. in Butler County 25 miles north of Pittsburgh. Dr. George F. Huff, the company's director of research, reported. The output has been devoted to research.

A new $4 million plant going into production next spring at Lawrenceburg, Kas., will produce "practical quantities," he said. Larger production will come from a $38 million plant scheduled to open at Muskogee, Okla., in January 1959.

DR. HUFF'S announcement came after an official of the Commonwealth Engineering Co. of Dayton, Ohio, claims the Air Force declined three years ago to test a new missile and rocket fuel developed by his company with a thrust "just short of atomic energy."

A statement issued by H. A. Toulmin Jr., chairman of the board at Commonwealth, said: "Commonwealth was advised by Wright Field that the new fuel was a close approach to atomic energy, but Wright Field said it could not disturb its program and declined to test it."

Toulmin said the fuel is available in either solid or liquid form and uses materials, some among the cheapest known, readily available in the United States.

Power of a fuel is measured by the number of British Thermal Units of heat generated when it burns. Rockets convert this heat energy into motion energy.

For comparison purposes, the gasoline which powers your car yields about 18,500 BTUs per pound. The liquid burned by jet aircraft yields about 18,000 BTUs.

A pound of boron-hydrogen compound is more than 50 per cent more powerful. Decaborane, a solid, yields 28,500 BTUs per pound; pentaborane a liquid, steps up to 29,000 BTUs and diborane, a gas, goes to 32,000.

Hydrogen alone yields 52,000 BTUs. But it is a tricky gas which can be solidified only at hundreds of degrees below zero and Dr. Huff says chemists have been unable to find any practical fuel above the 32,000 BTU level.

"I am sure," Kreber said, "that among the more than 7,500 licensed amateur radio operators in Ohio, there are many worthy of nomination for this high award."

"During the disastrous windstorms and floods which occurred early this year, for example, 'hams' performed heroic life-saving work, often providing the sole means of communication for disaster areas."

Contest rules are available at headquarters of the Ohio Civil Defense Corps, Ft. Hayes, Columbus. Jan. 3 is the deadline for filing nominations. A panel of nationally known judges will pick the winner in January.

Ohio Schools To Share In Federal Allocation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education announced today allocation of $31,792,980 in federal funds to help provide additional classrooms in school districts whose enrollments have been swollen by federal activities, mainly military installations. Ohio allocations:

Green local district, Clark County, $115,600; Hamilton local district, Franklin County, $96,900; Madison local district, Franklin County, $44,200.

South Half Of Freeway Under Study

COLUMBUS (AP)—Consulting engineers are expected to submit a more nearly pin-pointed route for a 90-mile section of freeway between Columbus and Cincinnati. Their report is expected before the end of the year.

The section is part of the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway. It runs from Harrisburg on the Pickaway-Franklin County line to the Hamilton County line about one mile west of Ohio 3.

The Ohio Department of Highways studied a preliminary draft of the first engineering reports on route locations and authorized a more detailed study.

Consultants are using aerial photographs taken by the Highway Department. The new report will be a design report, to be studied by the department and U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

If those agencies approve, a public hearing on the route will be scheduled.

The original report estimated the section would cost about $85 million. The report that should be ready before year's end will have a closer cost estimate.

Consultants are Louis Berger & Associates of Harrisburg, Pa., and Elmer S. Barrett Associates of Chillicothe.

They studied several possible routes and selected the one that runs closest to Springfield and Dayton. The route in general runs between U. S. 42 and Ohio 3.

Sewer Contract To Oldsfield

Circleville awarded the north end sewer contract yesterday noon to George Oldsfield, Inc., Toledo, O. The low bid was $182,436.60. The contract will be signed tonight.

Construction is expected to begin in 10 to 15 days and the pumping station probably will be the first started. The entire operation is to be completed in 180 days.

Ike's New Science Adviser Facing Sharp Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. James R. Killian is moving from cloistered university life into one of the sharpest controversies and some of the knottiest problems Washington has seen in many a year.

Sitting on the right hand of President Eisenhower as "special assistant to the President for science and technology," the 53-year-old head of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will find he also is concerned, directly or indirectly, with such matters as these:

1. Clamoring criticism from people in and out of Congress who demand to know (a) why we are supposedly behind Russia in the missile weapon field; (b) why Russia is ahead in the satellite launching business; (c) what is going to be done about it.

2. Money—should more be spent for military scientific projects?

3. The rivalry of the individual armed forces in weaponry, which

Eisenhower calls "alleged interservice competition."

Killian is no stranger to Washington activities, having served on an Army science advisory panel in 1951 and on a number of national foundation and scholarship boards.

He comes to Washington calmly. But he said in a statement at Cambridge, Mass., Thursday night that "I shall move as rapidly as possible to marshal the best scientific and engineering judgment and creative talent in the United States and to make it available to the President for the formulation of national policy which involves science and technology."

Did Eisenhower's announcement Thursday night on the new set-up for science mean that a "czar" with substantial power is to oversee the missile and earth satellite programs?

At one point in the President's address the language suggested

Killian might be such a czar. He said Killian, aided by a strong advisory group of outstanding experts, "will have the active responsibility of helping me follow through on the program." Eisenhower said also that Dr. Killian "will see to it" that projects which experts believe have the best possibilities "shall advance with the utmost speed" and that Killian "will make sure" that the best talent and full resources are applied to high-priority projects.

But then Eisenhower also said: "In the Defense Department is an official, directly responsible to the secretary, in charge of missile development. I have directed that the secretary make certain that the guided missile director is clothed with all the authority that the secretary himself possesses in this field, so that no administrative or interservice block can occur."

Reliable Reports Say Reds Ready To Launch Sputnik III

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Reports reaching London today from usually reliable sources said Russia soon will fire aloft a third satellite twice as big as the half-ton Sputnik II and with another live dog aboard.

These reports said the third satellite will be aimed at penetrating farther into space than the two Sputniks now hurtling around the earth.

Reports circulated in Moscow saying that the Russians may try to parachute back to earth the little dog, Laika, which since Sunday has been spinning around the earth in the second Soviet satellite.

There had been some speculation the Russians might try to send a rocket to the moon.

In Cambridge, Mass., officials of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said they had received no word from any observers indicating any unusual activity on the moon Thursday. Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director, said there have been "rumors only" that the Russians would try to fire a rocket to the moon.

MOSCOW SOURCES said the launching of a moon rocket was envisaged by the Soviets, but not in the immediate future. One informant said "we have the technical capability for launching such a rocket, but it is not part of our immediate program."

In London, Britain's chief atomic expert said it would give a push to Western collaboration if the Russians reach the moon on their next space expedition.

He said he picked up radioactivity of 150 roentgen strength in an area 150 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Humans can stand 240 roentgens, Locke said.

He said that obviously the radioactivity, which he described as "pretty strong," did not come from a permanent deposit of radioactive material such as uranium as the reading was much smaller when he checked the area a second time.

Locke, the sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Robert Ford found no trace of the object in an all-day search of the area.

Veterinarians Aid Humans with Curbs

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—By controlling diseases common to animals, veterinarians set up a barrier against transmitting such ailments to man, Dr. R. E. Rebrassier of Columbus, Ohio, president-elect of the American Veterinary Medical Assn., says.

Dr. Rebrassier said now that farmers are raising more animals on fewer acres they need more veterinary service and there is a shortage of doctors to provide it.

He said the 500 veterinarians being added each year should be doubled if the nation is to have all the services required.

U. S. Set To Make High Energy Fuel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A scientist revealed today that the United States soon will attain substantial production of boron-hydrogen high energy fuels, compounds which some sources suspect were the new type rocket power Soviet Russia says it used to fire Sputnik II into space.

"Project Zip" was the code name assigned to the research by the Navy in 1952. It earlier had been classified as secret.

These compounds are among the so-called exotic fuels now being studied as power sources. They are produced by chemically combining the elements boron and hydrogen. Such compounds are very rare in nature but each of the elements is plentiful in other compounds. Boron, for instance, in the oxide form borax which has been used as household cleanser for many years. Hydrogen is easily obtainable from the air or from water. The U. S. has very large borax deposits.

Pilot plant production of boron-hydrogen compounds has been underway for some time at the plant of Callery Chemical Co. in Butler County 25 miles north of Pittsburgh, Dr. George F. Huff, the company's director of research, reported. The output has been devoted to research.

A new $4 million plant going into production next spring at Lawrenceburg, Kas., will produce "practical quantities," he said. Larger production will come from a $38 million plant scheduled to open at Muskogee, Okla., in January 1959.

DR. HUFF'S announcement came after an official of the Commonwealth Engineering Co. of Dayton, Ohio, claims the Air Force declined three years ago to test a new missile and rocket fuel developed by his company with a thrust "just short of atomic energy."

A statement issued by H. A. Toulmin Jr., chairman of the board at Commonwealth, said: "Commonwealth was advised by Wright Field that the new fuel was a close approach to atomic energy, but Wright Field said it could not disturb its program and declined to test it."

Toulmin said the fuel is available in either solid or liquid form and uses materials, some among the cheapest known, readily available in the United States.

Power of a fuel is measured by the number of British Thermal Units of heat generated when it burns. Rockets convert this heat energy into motion energy.

For comparison purposes, the gasoline which powers your car yields about 18,500 BTUs per pound. The liquid burned by jet aircraft yields about 18,000 BTUs. A pound of boron-hydrogen compound is more than 50 per cent more powerful. Decaborane, a solid, yields 28,500 BTUs per pound; pentaborane a liquid, steps up to 29,000 BTUs and diborane, a gas, goes to 32,000.

Hydrogen alone yields 52,000 BTUs. But it is a tricky gas which can be solidified only at hundreds of degrees below zero and Dr. Huff says chemists have been unable to find any practical fuel above the 32,000 BTU level.

"I am sure," Kreber said, "that among the more than 7,500 licensed amateur radio operators in Ohio, there are many worthy of nomination for this high award."

"During the disastrous windstorms and floods which occurred early this year, for example, 'hams' performed heroic life-saving work, often providing the sole means of communication for disaster areas."

Contest rules are available at headquarters of the Ohio Civil Defense Corps, Ft. Hayes, Columbus, Jan. 3 is the deadline for filing nominations. A panel of nationally known judges will pick the winner in January.

Ohio Schools To Share In Federal Allocation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education announced today allocation of $31,792,980 in federal funds to help provide additional classrooms in school districts whose enrollments have been swollen by federal activities, mainly military installations. Ohio allocations:

South Half Of Freeway Under Study

COLUMBUS (AP)—Consulting engineers are expected to submit a more nearly pin-pointed route for a 90-mile section of freeway between Columbus and Cincinnati. Their report is expected before the end of the year.

The section is part of the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway. It runs from Harrisburg on the Pickaway-Franklin County line to the Hamilton County line about one mile west of Ohio 3.

The Ohio Department of Highways studied a preliminary draft of the first engineering reports on route locations and authorized a more detailed study.

Consultants are using aerial photographs taken by the Highway Department. The new report will be a design report, to be studied by the department and U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

If those agencies approve, a public hearing on the route will be scheduled.

The original report estimated the section would cost about $85 million. The report that should be ready before year's end will have a closer cost estimate.

Consultants are Louis Berger & Associates of Harrisburg, Pa., and Elmer S. Barrett Associates of Chillicothe.

They studied several possible routes and selected the one that runs closest to Springfield and Dayton. The route in general runs between U. S. 42 and Ohio 3.

Sewer Contract To Oldsfield

Circleville awarded the north end sewer contract yesterday noon to George Oldsfield, Inc., Toledo, O. The low bid was $182,436.60. The contract will be signed tonight.

Construction is expected to begin in 10 to 15 days and the pumping station probably will be the first started. The entire operation is to be completed in 180 days.

Engine Troubles Stall Polar Flights

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—More engine trouble delayed flights to the South Pole today.

Lt. Robert Bolling of Ft. Crook, Neb., made a hazardous forced landing on the ice airfield here after his Navy Neptune patrol bomber developed engine trouble a few minutes after takeoff.

Two of Bolling's 12 passengers were on a Navy DC3 that lost the use of one engine halfway to the pole Thursday. It made an emergency landing at a way station.

Another Neptune stalled at the pole Oct. 26, stranding 10 men there. So far bad weather and engine failures have prevented sending spare parts for repairs.

Reliable Reports Say Reds Ready To Launch Sputnik III

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reports reaching London today from usually reliable sources said Russia soon will fire aloft a third satellite twice as big as the half-ton Sputnik II and with another live dog aboard.

These reports said the third satellite will be aimed at penetrating farther into space than the two Sputniks now hurtling around the earth.

Reports circulated in Moscow saying that the Russians may try to parachute back to earth the little dog, Laika, which since Sunday has been spinning around the earth in the second Soviet satellite.

There had been some speculation the Russians might try to send a rocket to the moon.

In Cambridge, Mass., officials of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said they had received no word from any observers indicating any unusual activity on the moon Thursday. Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director, said there have been "rumors only" that the Russians would try to fire a rocket to the moon.

MOSCOW SOURCES said the launching of a moon rocket was envisaged by the Soviets, but not in the immediate future. One informant said "we have the technical capability for launching such a rocket, but it is not part of our immediate program."

In London, Britain's chief atomic expert said it would give a push to Western collaboration if the Russians reach the moon on their next space expedition.

Sales of Tax Stamps Drops

1957 Yearly Total Holds Above 1956

Receipts from the sale of sales tax stamps for the week ending Oct. 26, 1957 declined about $300 from the corresponding week a year ago. However, according to figures announced today by Roger W. Tracy, treasurer of Ohio, the total sales tax receipts for Pickaway County for the fiscal year are still above the 1956 total.

Receipts for the week were $7,469 as compared to $7,759 during 1956. The total sales for the year, however, currently stand at $115,172 as compared to $112,146 for 1956.

Mayor States By-Pass May Cut Accidents

The new Route 23 by-pass should greatly reduce traffic accidents in Circleville, according to Mayor R. E. Hedges. Mayor Hedges said, "There is now no reason why we cannot see a great reduction in accidents in this community."

"If all local citizens get behind the drive against traffic accidents and are quick with good defensive driving, traffic accidents in this community will be greatly reduced. Elimination of traffic accidents entirely is a goal we probably cannot soon achieve but it certainly is worth striving for."

Mayor Hedges was speaking on behalf of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee in the opening of its fall drive against traffic accidents.

The National Safety Council has designated November as the month to emphasize pedestrian traffic protection and preparations are being made by the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee for activities along this line.

Space Ship Seer Placed in Asylum

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Buffalo County board of mental health Thursday night ordered R. O. Schmidt, 58-year-old Brawley, Calif., "space ship" story teller, committed to the Hastings State Hospital for treatment.

Schmidt was committed to the hospital after the psychiatrists from the institution reported the grain buyer to be "very ill" and needing help immediately.

Pope Urging Modest Fashion Designs

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII told fashion experts from eight European nations today that clothing should be modestly fashioned.

The 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said that the church does not condemn fashion when it "is intended for the correct and decorous adornment of the body."

"The rule for fashion," the pope declared, "is that it must never lead to sin. The immorality of some fashions is due largely to excesses, whether they be excesses of immodesty or luxury."

Local Pythians Hear State Heads

Circleville and Ashville Pythians will meet with Knights of Pythias members from 10 other lodges of Franklin, Madison and Fayette counties in Jeffersonville at 8 p. m. today.

The local delegation will be headed by Harry J. Styers, 957 Pickaway St., lodge deputy of Philos Lodge, and Edwin Irwin, Ashville lodge deputy.

State Pythian leaders will outline the program to be carried out under new state head of the organization, Dale W. Stump, Columbus attorney.

Kenneth W. Hess, Springfield, superintendent of the Knights of Pythias Home for the Aged, will discuss plans for a campaign to raise $200,000 for an addition to the lodge's home and hospital in that city.

JAMES M. Leonard, Columbus, head of the state organization and chairman of a special state-wide committee, will tell of plans for this year's high school poster contest on highway safety.

As a part of the continent-wide Highway Courtesy Campaign the Knights of Pythias has been conducting for several years, Ohio Pythians two years ago tried out a poster contest for high school boys and girls in Sumbury. Leaders said that it proved so successful the first year that last year there were over 300 entries. Next spring the organization plans to conduct a similar contest in every high school in the state.

In announcing the contest, Stump pointed out that great benefits will come from having tens of thousands of high school boys and girls concentrating on the question of highway safety and drawing posters to convince others of its importance. The contest provides that each contestant display a poster in a public place before the contest next spring.

Lewis Vogt, Delphos, will outline plans for raising funds for program of aiding children who are handicapped by defects of speech, hearing and sight.

Route 138 Gets New Bridge Soon

Construction of a new bridge over Yellowbud Creek on Route 138 in Deer Creek Twp., will get under way soon the Ohio Department of Highways announced today.

Bids for the project will be opened by the Department in Columbus November 26. This project calls for replacing the existing narrow bridge with a new "full road-way width" (36 feet) continuous concrete slab structure. Total length of the project is one-tenth mile.

Traffic will be maintained on the highway during construction in order to minimize inconvenience to motorists. The bridge is located southeast of Williamsport about three miles from Route 22.

Ike Says Russians Lead Some Fields

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says Russia quite likely leads America in some areas of missile development. He has appointed a scientist expediter to the job of pushing this country ahead in this age of outer space weapons.

The President told the nation Thursday night he is giving that big job to Dr. James R. Killian, 53, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At the same time he said the Defense Department is strengthening the hand of its own missile coordinator, William M. Holaday.

In a coast to coast television and radio address, Eisenhower said the Soviets not only are quite likely ahead in some missile and special weapons areas, but "are obviously ahead of us in satellite development."

"We frankly recognize," he added, "that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously. This is because no defensive system today can possibly be air-tight in preventing all breakthroughs of planes and weapons."

But on the reassuring side, the President said: "As of today the over-all military strength of the free world is distinctly greater than that of the Communist countries."

Muscovites Dance Until Early Hours

MOSCOW (AP)—Thousands of Moscow residents danced in the streets until early today while more than 3,000 Communist leaders wound up the Nov. 7 anniversary program with a grand ball in the Kremlin.

While Soviet citizens enjoyed street festivities as part of their two-day holiday commemorating the Bolshevik Revolution 40 years ago, Nikita Khrushchev danced and sang revolutionary songs at the ball in St. George's Palace.

The Soviet Communist party boss was in high good humor, swinging an unidentified Russian woman through a dance and joining a spontaneous songfest.

With Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Kliment Y. Voroshilov, Khrushchev made a hand-shaking tour through the crowd that jammed reception rooms to consume great heaps of caviar and plenty of vodka.

Voroshilov welcomed Red China boss Mao Tse-tung and Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka with a short speech. He praised Soviet scientists, saying they were men of peace rather than of war.

One of the most active hand-shakers at the party was Britain's "Red Dean" of Canterbury, the Rev. Hewlett Johnson, in one of the West's best-known fellow travelers.

Another guest was A. N. Tupolev, the top Soviet aircraft designer whose new turboprop airliner, the TU114, was announced Sunday with claims that it is the world's largest passenger aircraft.

Response to Ike Talk Said Good

Speeded Up Program To Cost Billion Extra

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House reported "a very gratifying response from over the country" today to President Eisenhower's speech Thursday night on plans to step up U. S. science-missiles programs.

News dispatches from abroad reflected a good reception too by officials of allied governments, particularly with Eisenhower's call for more cooperation in Western research.

Eisenhower had Sen. Bridges (R-NH) as a breakfast guest and Bridges told reporters later that they had talked about the missile-satellite program.

Bridges estimated a speeded up program will cost an extra one or two billion dollars a year, and said he believes Congress will appropriate whatever is necessary.

The senator quoted Eisenhower as saying that Dr. James R. Killian would have "full power and authority" to get the job done.

Similarly, Mrs. Anne Wheaton, acting White House press secretary, said that Killian would have comprehensive authority.

SHE MADE NO effort, however, to characterize Killian as a czar, coordinator, expediter, liaison man or anything else.

Killian is president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the man the President announced to the nation Thursday night will be his special assistant for science and technology, in charge of mobilizing scientific brains and know how in the outer space age.

Mrs. Wheaton said Killian probably will take over his new job within a week. She said she thought there would be at that time a more extensive explanation of his responsibilities.

Errors In Spelling Help To Trap Pair In School Threat

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Spelling errors in a bomb-threat note to blow up Chester High School Thursday led to the arrest of two pupils.

Teachers gave a spelling test to 1,000 male pupils to see which ones misspelled the five words misspelled in the note. Detectives said 70 boys misspelled the words. The list was cut to two by detectives who considered such other details as which boys had been wearing blue shirts and khaki trousers—as described by a secretary who saw the note pushed under a glass door.

The detectives said they found a typewriter on which the note was written in the home of Bradford Beckley, 17. He was charged with writing a threatening letter. Donald Fisher, 17, was charged with conspiracy.

1957 Yearly Total Holds Above 1956

Receipts from the sale of sales tax stamps for the week ending Oct. 26, 1957 declined about $300 from the corresponding week a year ago. However, according to figures announced today by Roger W. Tracy, treasurer of Ohio, the total sales tax receipts for Pickaway County for the fiscal year are still above the 1956 total.

Receipts for the week were $7,469 as compared to $7,759 during 1956. The total sales for the year, however, currently stand at $115,172 as compared to $112,146 for 1956.

County Girls' Day Planned

The Pickaway County Schools will have Girls Day next Friday at Walnut Township School. This program will be under the supervision of the girls' physical education teachers group. Mrs. Patty Davis Ogle is the new president.

The program will start at 9 a. m. and end at 3 p. m. The county boys will be dismissed for opening day of hunting season.

Mayor States By-Pass May Cut Accidents

The new Route 23 by-pass should greatly reduce traffic accidents in Circleville, according to Mayor R. E. Hedges. Mayor Hedges said, "There is now no reason why we cannot see a great reduction in accidents in this community."

"If all local citizens get behind the drive against traffic accidents and are quick with good defensive driving, traffic accidents in this community will be greatly reduced. Elimination of traffic accidents entirely is a goal we probably cannot soon achieve but it certainly is worth striving for."

Mayor Hedges was speaking on behalf of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee in the opening of its fall drive against traffic accidents.

The National Safety Council has designated November as the month to emphasize pedestrian traffic protection and preparations are being made by the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee for activities along this line.

Space Ship Seer Placed in Asylum

KEARNEY, Neb. —The Buffalo County board of mental health Thursday night ordered R. O. Schmidt, 58-year-old Brayley, Calif., "space ship" storyteller, committed to the Hastings State Hospital for treatment.

Schmidt last Tuesday told a fantastic story of visiting on the banks of Platte River a "space ship" manned by four space men and two space women.

Schmidt was committed to the hospital after the psychiatrists from the institution reported the grain buyer to be "very ill" and needing help immediately.

Marvin Brigner, 17, Route 1, Ashville, was treated for minor wounds caused by the accidental firing of a shotgun, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department reported today.

Pope Urging Modest Fashion Designs

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy — Pope Pius XII told fashion experts from eight European nations today that clothing should be modestly fashioned.

The 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said that the church does not condemn fashion when it is intended for the correct and decorous adornment of the body.

"The rule for fashion," the pope declared, "is that it must never lead to sin. The immorality of some fashions is due largely to excesses, whether they be excesses of immodesty or luxury."

Local Pythians Hear State Heads

Circleville and Ashville Pythians will meet with Knights of Pythias members from 10 other lodges of Franklin, Madison and Fayette counties in Jeffersonville at 8 p. m. today.

The local delegation will be headed by Harry J. Styers, 957 Pickaway St., lodge deputy of Philos lodge, and Edwin Irwin, Ashville lodge deputy.

State Pythian leaders will outline the program to be carried out under new state head of the organization, Dale W. Stump, Columbus attorney.

Kenneth W. Hess, Springfield, superintendent of the Knights of Pythias Home for the Aged, will discuss plans for a campaign to raise $200,000 for an addition to the lodge's home and hospital in that city.

JAMES M. Leonard, Columbus, head of the state organization and chairman of a special state-wide committee, will tell of plans for this year's high school poster contest on highway safety.

As a part of the continent-wide Highway Courtesy Campaign the Knights of Pythias has been conducting for several years, Ohio Pythians two years ago tried out a poster contest for high school boys and girls in Sumbury. Leaders said that it proved so successful the first year that last year there were over 300 entries. Next spring the organization plans to conduct a similar contest in every high school in the state.

In announcing the contest, Stump pointed out that great benefits will come from having tens of thousands of high school boys and girls concentrating on the question of highway safety and drawing posters to convince others of its importance. The contest provides that each contestant display a poster in a public place before the contest next spring.

Lewis Vogt, Delphos, will outline plans for raising funds for program of aiding children who are handicapped by defects of speech, hearing and sight.

Route 138 Gets New Bridge Soon

Traffic will be maintained on the highway during construction in order to minimize inconvenience to motorists. The bridge is located southeast of Williamsport about three miles from Route 22.

Ike Says Russians Lead Some Fields

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower says Russia quite likely leads America in some areas of missile development. He has appointed a scientist expediter to the job of pushing this country ahead in this age of outer space weapons.

The President told the nation Thursday night he is giving that big job to Dr. James R. Killian, 53, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At the same time he said the Defense Department is strengthening the hand of its own missiles coordinator, William M. Holaday.

In a coast to coast television and radio address, Eisenhower said the Soviets not only are quite likely ahead in some missile and special weapons areas, but "are obviously ahead of us in satellite development."

"We frankly recognize," he added, "that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously. This is because no defensive system today can possibly be air-tight in preventing all breakthroughs of planes and weapons."

But on the reassuring side the President said this: "As of today the over-all military strength of the free world is distinctly greater than that of the Communist countries."

HE WENT ON to recount a number of facts.

Muscovites Dance Until Early Hours

MOSCOW — Thousands of Moscow residents danced in the streets until early today while more than 3,000 Communist leaders wound up the Nov. 7 anniversary program with a grand ball in the Kremlin.

While Soviet citizens enjoyed street festivities as part of their two-day holiday commemorating the Bolshevik Revolution 40 years ago, Nikita Khrushchev danced and sang revolutionary songs at the ball in St. George's Palace.

The Soviet Communist party boss was in high good humor, swinging an unidentified Russian woman through a dance and joining a spontaneous songfest.

With Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Kliment Y. Voroshilov, Khrushchev made a hand-shaking tour through the crowd that jammed reception rooms to consume great heaps of caviar and plenty of vodka.

Voroshilov welcomed Red China boss Mao Tse-tung and Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka with a short speech. He praised Soviet scientists, saying they were men of peace rather than of war.

One of the most active hand-shakers at the party was Britain's "Red Dean" of Canterbury, the Rev. Hewlett Johnson, in one of the West's best-known fellow travelers.

Another guest was A. N. Tupolev, the top Soviet aircraft designer whose new turboprop airliner, the TU114, was announced Sunday with claims that it is the world's largest passenger aircraft.

Response to Ike Talk Said Good

Speeded Up Program To Cost Billion Extra

WASHINGTON — The White House reported "a very gratifying response from over the country" today to President Eisenhower's speech Thursday night on plans to step up U. S. science-missiles programs.

News dispatches from abroad reflected a good reception too by officials of allied governments, particularly with Eisenhower's call for more cooperation in Western research.

Eisenhower had Sen. Bridges (R-NH) as a breakfast guest and Bridges told reporters later that they had talked about the missile-satellite program.

Bridges estimated a speeded up program will cost an extra one or two billion dollars a year, and said he believes Congress will appropriate whatever is necessary.

The senator quoted Eisenhower as saying that Dr. James R. Killian would have "full power and authority" to get the job done.

Similarly, Mrs. Anne Wheaton, acting White House press secretary, said that Killian would have comprehensive authority.

SHE MADE NO effort, however, to characterize Killian as a czar, coordinator, expediter, liaison man or anything else.

Killian is president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the man the President announced to the nation Thursday night will be his special assistant for science and technology, in charge of mobilizing scientific brains and know how in the outer space age.

Mrs. Wheaton said Killian probably will take over his new job within a week. She said she thought there would be at that time a more extensive explanation of his responsibilities.

Errors In Spelling Help To Trap Pair In School Threat

CHESTER, Pa. — Spelling errors in a bomb-threat note to blow up Chester High School Thursday led to the arrest of two pupils.

Teachers gave a spelling test to 1,000 male pupils to see which ones misspelled the five words misspelled in the note. Detectives said 70 boys misspelled the words. The list was cut to two by detectives who considered such other details as which boys had been wearing blue shirts and khaki trousers—as described by a secretary who saw the note pushed under a glass door.

The detectives said they found a typewriter on which the note was written in the home of Bradford Beckley, 17. He was charged with writing a threatening letter. Donald Fisher, 17, was charged with conspiracy.

Another Boom For Business Seen for '58

Present Lull Labeled
Only Temporary, but
'Wait Until Next Year'

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Fans of a baseball club that used to call Brooklyn home base were wont to mutter: "Wait until next year." Today business leaders and government officials are taking up the same chant.

That the long and strong business boom has stopped for a breather is widely recognized from President Eisenhower on down. That the next six months or so will be comparatively quiet at the best, and slightly lower at the worst, is the forecast of the majority of government and private economists.

But wait until next year. Almost all of the soothsayers are counting on a renewal of the boom—some thinking it will come by mid 1958, others by the end of the year.

Part of this is due to the widely held belief that the government will do something—that the government won't let a recession develop.

What government does undeniably has considerable weight on business activities—taxes, for example, and tight money.

But the Federal Reserve Board chairman reminds us that government cannot and should not "prevent declines that have to occur from time to time."

This will shock those who hold that government by its own actions alone can and must halt a recession at its outset.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to just what is happening today. President Eisenhower calls it a breather. Some of his government economists stick to the rolling readjustment tag, meaning that some industries are in for a tough time while others are continuing to climb.

The federal reserve chief, William McChesney Martin, holds that the breather is really a healthy correction after a boom that brought inflation as its price and that any attempt to prime the industrial pump now would bring on another spurt of inflation and further cheapening of the dollar's purchasing power.

Business in many lines didn't boom this fall as industrialists and merchants had hoped. But over-all activity is at such a high level and that unemployed form such a small percentage of the total labor force that most Americans aren't hurt by the breather. Corporations are still coming to the money market to peddle large bundles of new securities, meaning that they plan to go on expanding.

And one thing the taxpayers can count on for sure is that government spending is going up. Sputnik could inspire more defense spending. And this week voters here and there across the nation approved 830 million dollars of new bond issues for various state and local projects. They turned down only 105 million dollars of such proposals.

Sputniks Fail To Surprise Paris

DAYTON (AP)—The French were less astonished by Sputnik than Americans, Pierre Voisin, French aviation columnist visiting Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here says.

"For three centuries the people of Europe have realized that the Russians have been great in science whether they were rich or poor," Voisin said.

Voisin is on the staff of "Le Figaro" published in Paris.

He is visiting the United States for a month to gather information to present to the French people on the need of NATO.

Present Men's Style Said As Bad as Gunysack Dress

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Writer
Men who complain about their wives' new gunysack dresses might well take a look at themselves, says John Cobb, a young man who has violent ideas about current men's styles.

"The man in the gray flannel suit with the Ivy League shoulders should grow up," says Cobb, whose shoulders are more the football type. "The limp look is all right for college boys, but after graduation men should get out of the Ivy League and into the big league. They should take their clothes problems on their own shoulders—and if they haven't any shoulders, they'd better get some."

Cobb, a former actor, producer and director of stage and screen plays, has been creating a minor uproar in men's sporting circles recently with his new approach to sports clothes. He believes in the he-man look in sports shirts, with plenty of room for hoisting a rifle or swinging a golf club.

"Men who go around in sports shirts printed with passion flowers and sunsets ought to be restrained by law," he said.

Cobb holds that the sportsman is more fashion conscious than anybody.

"Golfers spend serious time, thought and money on correct gear for the links," says he. "Tennis players are very fussy about having exactly the correct kind of shirts, shorts and sweaters. And look at the money spent by cowboys on fancy shirts and skintight pants, hand-made boots and ten-gallon hats."

"Men who are serious about a sport will go to any lengths to be sure they are dressed right for it. There's a practical reason for all of it. And when clothes are made for a practical purpose, they always look good."

Another Boom For Business Seen for '58

Present Lull Labeled
Only Temporary, but
'Wait Until Next Year'

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Fans of a baseball club that used to call Brooklyn home base were wont to mutter: "Wait until next year." Today business leaders and government officials are taking up the same chant.

That the long and strong business boom has stopped for a breather is widely recognized from President Eisenhower on down. That the next six months or so will be comparatively quiet at the best, and slightly lower at the worst, is the forecast of the majority of government and private economists.

But wait until next year. Almost all of the soothsayers are counting on a renewal of the boom—some thinking it will come by mid 1958, others by the end of the year.

Part of this is due to the widely held belief that the government will do something—that the government won't let a recession develop.

What government does undeniably has considerable weight on business activities—taxes, for example, and tight money.

But the Federal Reserve Board chairman reminds us that government cannot and should not "prevent declines that have to occur from time to time."

This will shock those who hold that government by its own actions alone can and must halt a recession at its outset.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to just what is happening today. President Eisenhower calls it a breather. Some of his government economists stick to the rolling readjustment tag, meaning that some industries are in for a tough time while others are continuing to climb.

The federal reserve chief, William McChesney Martin, holds that the breather is really a healthy correction after a boom that brought inflation as its price and that any attempt to prime the industrial pump now would bring on another spurt of inflation and further cheapening of the dollar's purchasing power.

Business in many lines didn't boom this fall as industrialists and merchants had hoped. But over-all activity is at such a high level and that unemployed form such a small percentage of the total labor force that most Americans aren't hurt by the breather. Corporations are still coming to the money market to peddle large bundles of new securities, meaning that they plan to go on expanding.

And one thing the taxpayers can count on for sure is that government spending is going up. Sputnik could inspire more defense spending. And this week voters here and there across the nation approved 830 million dollars of new bond issues for various state and local projects. They turned down only 105 million dollars of such proposals.

Sputniks Fail To Surprise Paris

DAYTON (AP)—The French were less astonished by Sputnik than Americans, Pierre Voisin, French aviation columnist visiting Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here says.

"For three centuries the people of Europe have realized that the Russians have been great in science whether they were rich or poor," Voisin said.

Voisin is on the staff of "Le Figaro" published in Paris.

He is visiting the United States for a month to gather information to present to the French people on the need of NATO.

Present Men's Style Said As Bad as Gunnysack Dress

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Writer

Men who complain about their wives' new gunnysack dresses might well take a look at themselves, says John Cobb, a young man who has violent ideas about current men's styles.

"The man in the gray flannel suit with the Ivy League shoulders should grow up," says Cobb, whose shoulders are more the football type. "The limp look is all right for college boys, but after graduation men should get out of the Ivy League and into the big league. They should take their own clothes problems on their own shoulders—and if they haven't any shoulders, they'd better get some."

Cobb, a former actor, producer and director of stage and screen plays, has been creating a minor uproar in men's sporting circles recently with his new approach to sports clothes. He believes in the he-man look in sports shirts, with plenty of room for hoisting a rifle or swinging a golf club.

"Men who go around in sports shirts printed with passion flowers and sunsets ought to be restrained by law," he said.

Cobb holds that the sportsman is more fashion conscious than anybody. "Golfers spend serious time, thought and money on correct gear for the links," says he. "Tennis players are very fussy about having exactly the correct kind of shirts, shorts and sweaters. And look at the money spent by cowboys on fancy shirts and skintight pants, hand-made boots and ten-gallon hats."

"Men who are serious about a sport will go to any lengths to be sure they are dressed right for it. There's a practical reason for all of it. And when clothes are made for a practical purpose, they always look good."

Missile Feud Is Revealed

The publicity that has been given the unused Army rockets at Redstone, Ala., which allegedly might have shot an American "moon" into the skies months ago may yet bring clarity to a barely hinted missile feud.

The head of the Army's missile research, Dr. Werner Von Braun, also has been given a generous share of publicity in recent weeks since Sputnik first made its appearance. Von Braun is the man who designed Germany's V-2 rockets in World War II.

So far the emphasis in the story of the missile feud has been on friction between the Army and the Air Force and the Navy, or between the Pentagon and the scientists.

But there have been hints that nationalistic feelings are involved, too.

The Army managed to scoop up a good share of the German rocket scientists during the concluding days of World War II. The rest were captured and used by the Russians.

These scientists for the most part have gone to work for the Army, many of them at Redstone, Dr. Von Braun, now a naturalized American citizen, is one of them.

The Air Force in its missile research had to rely on native American talent. Could this have been the cause of another rivalry — German versus American scientists?

Were the Germans held back? Whatever the story—and the details cannot be forever suppressed — it is most unfortunate that this particular type of feud entered the defense effort.

He Made Presidents' Underwear

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Horace A. Carter never wanted to be President of the United States.

All he ever wanted to do was sell underwear to the Presidents and the people who voted for and against them.

At 88 Carter, durable as a hickory fence post, is the dean and kingpin of the nation's prospering underwear industry. He is president and treasurer of the William Carter Co., which this year expects to do a record $35 million business.

"We have outfitted most of the presidents since Theodore Roosevelt," recalled Carter, whose father, William, landed here from England just 100 years ago with about $2.50 in his pocket.

"President Taft was so large that he had to make special garments for him. Calvin Coolidge took considerable pride in his underwear. He wore ankle-and-waist length one piece union suits made of silk and wool—the same style the year around.

"Once, when I visited him in the White House, he told me, 'I always have Grace wash them herself.'"

Sometimes Coolidge, a personal friend of Carter and a man who placed a high value on a dollar, would accept gifts of underwear. But once he wrote on White House stationery:

"Now, wool and labor are cheap. I will pay this time, so send me the bill."

At another time he told Carter:

"I tell you Horace, underwear is not a necessity. Underwear is a luxury. My father never wore undershirts and underdrawers, and I never wore them until I was 21."

The underwear firm was founded by William Carter, who as a boy had knitted hosiery for the Prince of Wales, in the family kitchen in West Needham, Mass. in 1865.

At 16 Horace entered the firm and worked a 60-hour week.

"In addition I had to milk two cows, and feed the horses, swine and chickens," he recalled. "In my spare time I took correspondence courses."

"It didn't hurt me. Responsibility and work wouldn't hurt any of today's children either."

In his youth the big item in underwear was the famous "long-johns," a full-length drop-seat model made of red flannel or oatmeal-colored fabric. The greatest business now is in children's and infant underwear, which Carter helped pioneer.

One item once popular with elderly ladies—the "belly warmer," a wool wraparound worn about the midriff—was discontinued only three years ago. But the "belly trimmer," a knit girdle-type garment to slim down the silhouette, is still in high favor with middle-aged pot-shaped men.

Carter first won personal renown in the industry with an ad around 1902 showing a husband and wife, clad in long underwear and shaking hands under the caption:

"In union there is strength." "It was a bit daring for that day," he chuckled.

Throughout his life Carter has had no hobby, except the occasional writing of poetry.

"I gave that up around the second world war," he said, his old eyes twinkling. "For fear people might think I was eccentric."

Bureaucracy--609 Pages Worth

By George Sokolsky

Somebody sent me four volumes of hearings in the matter of "Power Authority of the State of New York, Project No. 2216." The total comes to 609 pages of mimeographed material. At $1.50 a page for the transcription this comes to nearly $1,000 of garbage not including postage. I do not know how many others were sent this stuff but it just goes to show what happens when a bureaucracy gets hold of something. It always becomes what the youngsters call a Federal case.

This one is before the Federal Power Commission which must have a lot of time on its hands. I glanced through the stuff. It starts with a long speech by somebody called "Presiding Examiner," who tells the folks how they should behave in front of company. He says, for instance: "I might mention that smoking is not permitted during the sessions of the hearing. You can smoke in this room between sessions or during recess periods. I notice there are ash trays here for that purpose."

I'm glad to see that the government provides ash trays and that the spectators will not throw their cigarette butts on the carpet. This is very thoughtful of the Presiding Examiner because whenever I go into a government office building, it always appears to be dirty as though vacuum cleaners and scrub women were unavailable.

Anyhow, all these pages deal with what to do about Niagara Power. At the present time, most of the industries which formerly used Niagara Power are purchasing theirs from Canada, which is on the ball. But the rate is very high and if it remains that high, I am told, the businesses will have to move away.

This long record shows that the Power Authority of the State of New York has applied for a license for a proposed hydroelectric project on the Niagara River in Niagara County, New York and that the city of Niagara Falls, Town of Lewiston, has opposed the plans concerning water conduits and the reservoir area as proposed by the applicant.

So that starts a long hearing which keeps all the officials busy but power meanwhile is being purchased from Canada. Well, I have to skip some of the pages because it seems as though a lot of lawyers get into the act, which means that somebody is making some money out of it besides the Canadians. Apparently the Presiding Examiner is worried about the large number of lawyers who got into this thing, because he said:

"We will try to keep your names straight. I hope you will be patient with us if we make some mistakes. Most everyone here is a new face to me, and I presume there are others in that same boat, so be tolerant if we mix your name up a little bit occasionally or the party you represent as well. Those things seem to be inevitable in a hearing of this size."

Maybe they ought to retain my good friend, Jim Farley, to help them out. Jim never forgets a name or a face and always keeps the record straight. However, they have to work out procedures; in a word, someone needs to decide how the bureaucracy is to keep this thing going. The Presiding Examiner says:

"Now, there may have been some discussions among counsel as to the procedure here. The Examiner is always anxious to carry out any arrangements that counsel have made among themselves as long as it doesn't interfere with the orderly processes of the hearing."

So Sam Rosenman points out that the engineers cannot agree on basic data and that is wasting time. This fight is not new. It has been in Congress since 1950. This year Congress passed a law which is a compromise between private power and public power. While these hearings are going on, the price of building materials is going up and the Power Authority cannot tell whether the cost will be $600,000,000 or $800,000,000 because no one, in an inflationary period, can figure costs.

Well, I finished reading Sam Rosenman's statement and looked through the following pages and saw that the lawyers were going on forever and forever. Meanwhile, the Canadians are making hay while we hold hearings and the lawyers earn fees. It is a good racket if you can get into it.

Anxious? See Your Doctor

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Don't be so anxious. This is good advice but, in many cases, it is pretty difficult to follow. In our present mode of living, anxiety is widespread.

Some of the trouble—central anxiety—begins early in life. It may influence an individual's entire personality, but generally the victim is completely unaware of it. The second type, peripheral anxiety, probably can be traced to fairly recent situations, such as financial problems, job or domestic troubles.

Anxiety, as a state of apprehension, is a mechanism of self-protection. However, when anxiety becomes excessive, it hampers mental function and is likely to interrupt the body's normal physiological function as well.

If you are troubled by anxiety, the first person to consult is your physician.

Many persons believe anxiety is an ailment generally held in honor by the public at large. For this reason, they might hesitate admitting, even to their doctor, that they are tense or worried. Hence, the physician probably will ask whether the patient has difficulty relaxing.

He'll inquire about sleep habits, since persons suffering anxiety usually have quite a bit of trouble getting to sleep.

The physician will ask whether symptoms seriously limit activities. Persons with deep anxiety, you see, generally seek the easy way out. They prefer being alone and avoid crowds. They also try to stay clear of confusion or disagreement, since stress of almost any kind will tire them out very quickly.

Next, the doctor must determine whether symptoms are related in any way to environment or interpersonal relationships.

Don't get the idea that a doctor will hustle such a person right off to a psychiatrist. Intensive psychiatric study is not necessarily indicated for all anxiety patients. The main thing is to discover the sources of the anxiety. Then the patient has to be made aware of his problems and be given help in solving them.

Dozens of Texans report sighting a shining phantom object with wings flitting about near the town of Lubbock. If it was a Halloween stunt, it was a trifle behind schedule.

At that, the Texans said it was a tricky sort of gadget but was no trick to look at.

The Texas flying object is said to have been shaped like a football. We doubt, however, it was a publicity stunt for some college grid game.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took two Sputniks and their stunning effect on American thinking to drive the Eisenhower administration into a rush to keep abreast—or perhaps get ahead—of the Russians.

In his nationwide talk Thursday night President Eisenhower outlined a program to speed work in missiles, some secret items, and scientific and technological developments for national defense.

The question running around Washington before the broadcast was: will he talk in generalities, as he has so many times, or will he get down to cases and offer some action?

He proposed action. Unless he had done so, there probably would have been broad national disappointment and protest.

He said some "sternly demanding facts" require "new action." This immediately raises a question which may prove embarrassing to the administration. Why wasn't this action taken until after the Sputniks spun across the sky?

The answer may come from a Senate investigation later this month.

There was no indication Eisenhower planned either the talk or the action until after Oct. 4 when the Russians shot their first Sputnik aloft and a badly disturbed and bewildered country began to ask: How come the Russians could do this first?

Then Eisenhower announced he would talk next week, one of several talks. But last Sunday the Russians sent their second and much bigger earth satellite skyward. Eisenhower decided to talk a week sooner.

The Sputniks circling the earth were spectacular testimony to Russian progress in science and technology. But it was the implication behind the Sputniks that was sinister and dangerous.

To get the Sputniks aloft meant perhaps the Russians had developed a special rocket fuel and an intercontinental missile, which, when equipped with a hydrogen warhead, could blackmail the rest of the world.

In his talk Eisenhower listed an impressive number of new weapons, both missile and nuclear, which this country has in its arsenal. He said he thought over all Allied military strength was greater than communism's.

But he admitted:

1. "We frankly recognize that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously."

2. "... The Soviets are quite likely ahead in some missile and special areas, and are obviously ahead of us in satellite development."

The talk revealed the administration had not been doing all it could to push missile and other developments. Eisenhower said he had been getting the best scientific advice on an informal basis.

His program now calls for marshaling that advice and at the same time sweeping aside any blocks in the road, such as Army-Navy-Air Force squabbles over which service should be doing what.

Flagpole Sitter Fears Becoming New Sputnik

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — Flagpole sitter Orville Dickey said he is "a little tired" of life in his wind-blown hut and plans to come down today after a 30-day perch.

Dickey's perch was a stunt for the benefit of the Tri-Cities United Fund Drive. Officials of the fund said it was decided to end the stunt after collections reached $205,728, or 78 per cent of the goal.

"In a windstorm the pole pitched back and forth like a bucking bronco," Dickey said, "and I expected to be catapulted into outer space like Sputnik."

al friend of Carter and a man who placed a high value on the dollar, would accept gifts of underwear. But once he wrote on White House stationery:

"Now, wool and labor are cheap, I will pay this time, so send me the bill."

At another time he told Carter: "I tell you Horace, underwear is not a necessity. Underwear is a luxury. My father never wore undershirts and underdrawers, and I never wore them until I was 21."

The underwear firm was founded by William Carter, who as a boy had knitted hosiery for the Prince of Wales, in the family kitchen in West Needham, Mass. in 1865.

At 16 Horace entered the firm and worked a 60-hour week.

"In addition I had to milk two cows, and feed the horses, swine and chickens," he recalled. "In my spare time I took correspondence courses."

"It didn't hurt me. Responsibility and work wouldn't hurt any of today's children either."

In his youth the big item in under-johns, a full-length drop-seat model made of red flannel or oatmeal-colored fabric. The greatest business now is in children's and infant underwear, which Carter helped pioneer.

One item once popular with elderly ladies—the "belly warmer," a wool wraparound worn about the midriff—was discontinued only three years ago. But the "belly trimmer," a knit girder-type garment to slim down the silhouette, is still in high favor with middle-aged pot-shaped men.

Carter first won personal renown in the industry with an ad around 1902 showing a husband and wife, clad in long underwear and shaking hands under the caption:

"In union there is strength."
"It was a bit daring for that day," he chuckled.

Throughout his life Carter has had no hobby, except the occasional writing of poetry.

"I gave that up around the second world war," he said, his old eyes twinkling. "For fear people might think I was eccentric."

Bureaucracy--609 Pages Worth

By George Sokolsky

Somebody sent me four volumes of hearings in the matter of "Power Authority of the State of New York, Project No. 2216." The total comes to 609 pages of mimeographed material. At $1.50 a page for the transcription this comes to nearly $1,000 of garbage not including postage. I do not know how many others were sent this stuff but it just goes to show what happens when a bureaucracy gets hold of something. It always becomes what the youngsters call a Federal case.

This one is before the Federal Power Commission which must have a lot of time on its hands. I glanced through the stuff. It starts with a long speech by somebody called "Presiding Examiner," who tells the folks how they should behave in front of company. He says, for instance: "I might mention that smoking is not permitted during the sessions of the hearing. You can smoke in this room between sessions or during recess periods. I notice there are ash trays here for that purpose."

I'm glad to see that the government provides ash trays and that the spectators will not throw their cigarette butts on the carpet. This is very thoughtful of the Presiding Examiner because whenever I go into a government office building, it always appears to be dirty as though vacuum cleaners and scrub women were unavailable.

Anyhow, all these pages deal with what to do about Niagara Power. At the present time, most of the industries which formerly used Niagara Power are purchasing theirs from Canada, which is on the ball. But the rate is very high and if it remains that high, I am told, the businesses will have to move away.

This long record shows that the Power Authority of the State of New York has applied for a license for a proposed hydroelectric project on the Niagara River in Niagara County, New York and that the city of Niagara Falls, Town of Lewiston, has opposed the plans concerning water conduits and the reservoir area as proposed by the applicant.

So that starts a long hearing which keeps all the official busy but power meanwhile is being purchased from Canada. Well, I have to skip some of the pages because it seems as though a lot of lawyers get into the act, which means that somebody is making some money out of it besides the Canadians. Apparently the Presiding Examiner is worried about the large number of lawyers who got into this thing, because he said:

"We will try to keep your names straight. I hope you will be patient with us if we make some mistakes. Most everyone here is a new face to me, and I presume there are others in that same boat, so be tolerant if we mix your name up a little bit occasionally or the party you represent as well. Those things seem to be inevitable in a hearing of this size."

Maybe they ought to retain my good friend, Jim Farley, to help them out. Jim never forgets a name or a face and always keeps the record straight. However, they have to work out procedures; in a word, someone needs to decide how the bureaucracy is to keep this thing going. The Presiding Examiner says:

"Now, there may have been some discussions among counsel as to the procedure here. The Examiner is always anxious to carry out any arrangements that counsel have made among themselves for their own convenience as long as it doesn't interfere with the orderly processes of the hearing."

So Sam Rosenman points out that the engineers cannot agree on basic data and that is wasting time. This fight is not new. It has been in Congress since 1950. This year Congress passed a law which is a compromise between private power and public power. While these hearings are going on, the price of building materials is going up and the Power Authority cannot tell whether the cost will be $600,000,000 or $800,000,000 because no one, in an inflationary period, can figure costs.

Well, I finished reading Sam Rosenman's statement and looked through the following pages and saw that the lawyers were going on forever and forever. Meanwhile, the Canadians are making hay while we hold hearings and the lawyers earn fees. It is a good racket if you can get into it.

Anxious? See Your Doctor

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Don't be so anxious. This is good advice but, in many cases, it is pretty difficult to follow. In our present mode of living, anxiety is widespread.

Some of the trouble—central anxiety—begins early in life. It may influence an individual's entire personality, but generally the victim is completely unaware of it. The second type, peripheral anxiety, probably can be traced to fairly recent situations, such as financial problems, job or domestic troubles.

Anxiety, as a state of apprehension, is a mechanism of self-preservation. However, when anxiety becomes excessive, it hampers mental function and is likely to interrupt the body's normal physiologic function as well.

If you are troubled by anxiety, the first person to consult is your physician.

Many persons believe anxiety is an ailment generally held in honor by the public at large. For this reason, they might hesitate admitting, even to their doctor, that they are tense or worried. Hence, the physician probably will ask whether the patient has difficulty relaxing.

He'll inquire about sleep habits, since persons suffering anxiety usually have quite a bit of trouble getting to sleep.

The physician will ask whether symptoms seriously limit activities. Persons with deep anxiety, you see, generally seek the easy way out. They prefer being alone and avoid crowds. They also try to stay clear of confusion or disagreement, since stress of almost any kind will tire them out very quickly.

Next, the doctor must determine whether symptoms are related in any way to environment or interpersonal relationships.

Don't get the idea that a doctor will hustle such a person right off to a psychiatrist. Intensive psychiatric study is not necessarily indicated for all anxiety patients.

The main thing is to discover the sources of the anxiety. Then the patient has to be made aware of his problems and be given help in solving them.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took two Sputniks and their stunning effect on American thinking to drive the Eisenhower administration into a rush to keep abreast—or perhaps get ahead—of the Russians.

In his nationwide talk Thursday night President Eisenhower outlined a program to speed work in missiles, some secret items, and scientific and technological developments for national defense.

The question running around Washington before the broadcast was: will he talk in generalities, as he has so many times, or will he get down to cases and offer some action?

He proposed action. Unless he had done so, there probably would have been broad national disappointment and protest.

He said some "sternly demanding facts" require "new action." This immediately raises a question which may prove embarrassing to the administration. Why wasn't this action taken until after the Sputniks spun across the sky?

The answer may come from a Senate investigation later this month.

There was no indication Eisenhower planned either the talk or the action until after Oct. 4 when the Russians shot their first Sputnik aloft and a badly disturbed and bewildered country began to ask: How come the Russians could do this first?

Then Eisenhower announced he would talk next week, one of several talks. But last Sunday the Russians sent their second and much bigger earth satellite skyward. Eisenhower decided to talk a week sooner.

The Sputniks circling the earth were spectacular testimony to Russian progress in science and technology. But it was the implication behind the Sputniks that was sinister and dangerous.

To get the Sputniks aloft meant perhaps the Russians had developed a special rocket fuel and an intercontinental missile, which, when equipped with a hydrogen warhead, could blackmail the rest of the world.

In his talk Eisenhower listed an impressive number of new weapons, both missile and nuclear, which this country has in its arsenal. He said he thought overall Allied military strength was greater than communism's.

But he admitted:

1. "We frankly recognize that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously."

2. "... The Soviets are quite likely ahead in some missile and special areas, and are obviously ahead of us in satellite development."

The talk revealed the administration had not been doing all it could to push missile and other developments. Eisenhower said he had been getting the best scientific advice on an informal basis.

His program now calls for marshaling that advice and at the same time sweeping aside any blocks in the road, such as Army-Navy-Air Force squabbles over which service should be doing what.

Flagpole Sitter Fears Becoming New Sputnik

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—Flagpole sitter Orville Dickey said he is "a little tired" of life in his wind-blown hut and plans to come down today after a 30-day perch.

Dickey's perch was a stunt for the benefit of the Tri-Cities United Fund Drive. Officials of the fund said it was decided to end the stunt after collections reached $205,728, or 78 per cent of the goal.

"In a windstorm the pole pitched back and forth like a bucking bronco," Dickey said, "and I expected to be catapulted into outer space like Sputnik."

Opening Night Jitters Told

Ricardo Montalban Recalls Experience

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens to an actor on opening night of a Broadway show?

Take the case of Ricardo Montalban, who just opened in the calypso caper, "Jamaica." Some of his ordeal is described in his feelings the moment before he went on stage:

"You talk about a man's life flashing before his eyes as he is drowning—that is exactly how I felt. I thought of everything: my mother, my father, my boyhood, dreams I have had.

"I thought what would happen if the play was a flop, how I would have to take my wife and four children back to California. I wondered if my voice would hold up. Then I heard the overture and suddenly I was faced with that terrible moment of having to go on."

Ricardo's ordeal was made worse by a cold he had picked up during the tryout run in Boston. When he arrived at the Imperial theater at noon before opening night, his voice was hoarse. He did a run-through whispering his lines and talking his songs.

Then he went home for a half-hour rest. He was back at the theater at 6:15.

"I always get there early," he explained. "I'm the kind of a guy who sleeps with three alarm clocks. I've always got to be sure I'll be there on time."

He started getting ready for the show at 6:30, aided by a dresser and makeup man.

"Between the acts, I felt terrible," Ricardo said. "I was depressed. I thought I wasn't getting across."

When it was all over the applause at the curtain calls was heartening. Well-wishers jammed into his dressing room to offer congratulations.

Jamaica's slim plot was roundly knocked, but the Harold Arlen music and the jobs by Lena Horne and Ricardo were praised.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The last of three men accused of robbing a bank at Andover, Ohio, last month has been taken into custody.

Ray L. Faisst, special agent in charge of the Louisville FBI office, said about $2,271 was taken from Pritt. Kellerman and Bradbury had about $6,000 in their possession when they were arrested. Faisst said Pritt came here Monday to enroll in a television school. He was arrested in a supermarket parking lot in suburban Shively. He faces arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Ray H. Kirchdoerfer today.

Rocket Expert Says U.S., Reds 'Even'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The United States and Russia are about equal today in their knowledge of rocketry, says rocket expert Willy Ley.

But because Russia is in production, and America is still in the development stage, Russia could stand still and it would still take the United States one year to catch up, he said.

Ley, a writer and research engineer for the Washington, D.C., Institute of Technology, addressed the Institute of Radio Engineers here Thursday night.

The 51-year-old German-born expert said when the International Geophysical Year ends Dec. 31, 1958, there could be as many as 20 satellites circling the earth. A manned satellite, he said, is possible within three or four years.

Expense Accounts Must Be Detailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxpayers next spring will have to itemize every cent they received on expense accounts during 1957 and enter the total on a new line on their tax forms, the Internal Revenue Service reports.

The law calling for a complete accounting of all expense accounts has been on the books since 1951. However, taxpayers with relatively small expense accounts paid very little attention to it.

Unknown Soldier Rites To Change in 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ceremonies next Monday at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier will be the last program there honoring a fighting man of World War I as the sole symbol of America's unidentified military dead.

By next Veterans Day, formerly known as Armistice Day, the unknowns of World War II and of Korea will have been buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

Woman Held For Killing Drunken Son

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Louise Redmon, 51, faced a manslaughter charge today in connection with the fatal shooting of her son John, 31. Detective John Dedden said Mrs. Redmon told him she shot her son because she was "tired of him coming home drunk all the time."

The son was shot twice with a pistol as he sat slumped in a chair in the Redmon home. Mrs. Redmon then asked a neighbor to call police.

After making a statement to police she was charged with manslaughter and her bond was fixed at $5,000.

Mrs. Redmon said her son's wife and four children live in Lexington, Ky. She said they had been separated for 18 months.

Police records showed Redmon had been arrested seven times for drunkenness and once for vagrancy.

TV 'Huck Finn' To Be Musical

Famous Mark Twain Tale Due on Nov. 20

NEW YORK (AP)—"Well," said Elliott Silverstein, "you ask me why you do 'Huck Finn' as a musical and I ask you why not do it as a musical?"

Silverstein will direct a musical version of Mark Twain's wonderful story to be seen Nov. 20 on "Steel Show" (CBS-TV, 10:15 p.m. EST) and starring Jimmy Boyd, Basil Rathbone, Jack Carson and Earle Hyman. Frank Luther has written the music.

"You might ask Rodgers and Hammerstein why they did 'South Pacific' as a musical instead of as straight drama," continued Silverstein.

"There's something about a musical presentation that gives pleasure to an audience," said Silverstein. "There's ingenuity, boldness and a frank effort to entertain that makes an audience respond to it."

Mark Twain's picaresque novel of Huck's adventures while drifting down the Mississippi naturally must be greatly compressed by television. The TV version will focus primarily on Huck's experiences with those two grand mountebanks the Duke and the Dauphin.

Silverstein feels that "Huck Finn" has that characteristic which he considers most important to the best television entertainment—"a sense of parade... the attraction of good songs and dancing, of theatrical entertainment in the grand style."

Silverstein believes that straight performers are inclined to think of the characters they portray in the third person while musical performers are inclined to think of the characters they portray in the first person. "Musicals belong to a world of romance, but straight shows deal rather with the area of emotional conflicts."

Jeanne Shea Addresses Circleville Rotarians

Proud of Small Town Background

When Jeanne Shea, Columbus Dispatch columnist addressed the Circleville Rotary Club Thursday it was homecoming day for her. Mrs. Shea enjoyed the Rotarians just as much as they enjoyed her. Many of them had grown up with her and many had known her when she was a roller skating youngster who did acrobatic dancing at many of the local talent shows in town.

After her talk when Rotary members came up to the table to speak to her personally one man said, "Hello Jeanne I bet you don't remember me!"

Jeanne looked at him for a moment, and quickly replied "O Yes I do Mr. Millrons but I haven't seen you in many a year."

Jeanne Shea, who is Mrs. Archie Shea and mother of two high school youngsters, David a senior and Susan a sophomore has successfully combined a TV career with homemaking. For eight years she emceed her own television program.

She is relatively new in the newspaper field. But she finds newspaper work so exciting and so much fun that it is about to replace her first love TV.

Jeanne Shea had some advice to give the men about their women folk. "Let 'em work. In fact encourage them to work" Mrs. Shea was speaking of work outside the home.

Jeanne spoke of two Pickaway County women that she admired and who though not young had found pleasure and joy in outside employment—one was Mrs. Nelle Phillips, Circleville, who according to Jeanne "is a wonderful baby sitter." The other woman is Mrs. Ruth Glick, near Ashville who makes Scotch costumes that are sent all over the world.

Mrs. Shea named these two women because she wanted her audience to know that women could find interesting outside work without a background of special training.

Mrs. Shea's own training was in fine arts. A background that has been of little help in her TV and Newspaper work, she said.

Jeanne Shea gave an entertaining account of her switch from TV to the newspaper field. She had contacted George Smallreed, managing editor for the Dispatch for a reference. And they just got to talking and in a few days Jeanne started writing her now very popular column.

"And do you know what has helped me more than anything else in my column?" she asked the Rotarians. "It has been my small town background. When you come from a small town where people know you and are interested in you you get the feeling that people are behind you and rooting for you."

Mrs. Shea believes that having the courage to tackle a job that is offered to you is the most important thing. She told Rotarians to give their spouses a little push if necessary when it comes to taking on an outside job. She assured the men that their wives would be happier more interesting people if they felt themselves a part of

MRS. ROBERT TURNER — Miss Marian K. Richter and Mr. Robert W. Turner were married at a beautiful wedding held in Trinity Methodist Church Chillicothe, Oct. 19. some big organization. "Get them to join clubs" she advised, "Get them interested in civic things".

Mrs. Shea believes that the Archie Shea family is a happier more interesting family because she is employed. "Our evening meal is a happy time with all four Sheas jockeying for a place in the conversation so that he can tell about the day's adventures.

Perhaps what her listeners liked the most about Jeanne was her special brand of reminiscing. She recalled a movie made many years ago by a Hollywood company in which Circleville business men were shown at their places of business. Many Rotarians remembered the movie. Charlie Gilmore, manager for Columbus and Southern Electric Co. told Jeanne that he had been in it. They took him while receiving payment of an electric bill. Mr. M. E. Noggle had also been in the movie. They pictured him at the bank while a costumer made a deposit. Jeanne herself played the part of a roller skating brat who followed the crowd into all the places of business.

Mrs. Shea, of course gave some amusing incidents in her TV career. She said she just happened along when TV was first starting in Columbus. She had been asked to show her champion St. Bernard dog. "And the manager must have been impressed with my ability to gab for half an hour at a time, so he gave me a job".

Jeanne Shea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crow, 431 N. Court St. and a true daughter of Circleville who remembers the town with real pleasure and who sincerely feels it has contributed greatly to her success.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am only a housemaid, past 21, brought here from Europe—looking after three boys and doing all the housework. All was fine the first year; but now my employer (call her Mrs. R.) is nagging about my work, my outings, friends, everything. The only reason I can give for this change is that she is jealous.

She could be good-looking if she had more taste in clothes, but she doesn't care about fashion, and I am quite the opposite. I am pretty, attractive, simple. I wear little or no makeup, don't talk much, like to be tidy, and get lots of compliments from men—but don't care for them.

Mr. R. is a very nice man who gives me English lessons once or twice a week (which he suggests); and he buys me every week a magazine or newspaper from my country—but the same for his wife. Also, and we trade. In the living room she always manages to seat me far from her husband; and never leaves us together, even with the children. Once she had to be away overnight and summoned her sister-in-law to stay here.

Now I have to be home by midnight; once when I came in at 12:30 she made such a fuss that I almost stopped going out. At parties I have to watch the time and excuse myself and naturally my boy friend has to leave too. Mrs. R. knows the boy and his family, whom I usually see on my day off.

Ashville

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dore have been ill this week with the flu. Mrs. Harry Rife, Jr. is teaching the sixth grade of the Ashville School during Mrs. Dore's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Irwin were called to Leesburg, Ohio, Sunday by the death of a brother-in-law, Cleve Eyre. Funeral services for Mr. Eyre were held Wednesday.

Everett Mehrey, local vocal music instructor, was unable to meet classes Monday because of an attack of the flu.

Benis Lutz has selected the cast for the senior class play and is ready to begin rehearsals.

Junior high cheerleaders, chosen by a high school committee, are as follows: Barbara Kennedy, Kathy Stout and Nancy Featheringham of the eighth grade and Diane Boyer of the seventh grade.

The annual Halloween school carnival, sponsored by the P.T.A., scheduled for last Friday, was cancelled because of the flu. A harvest festival and supper has been arranged for Saturday, Nov. 16.

Ashville's final football game of the season has been cancelled by Summit Station because of the flu at the Licking County School. As a result the Ashville basketball players will begin practice a few days sooner.

Phony Invitations Sent to Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Phony invitations to Thursday night's anniversary party at the Russian Embassy were received by many members of Congress.

The handsomely embossed fake invitations were for a celebration "of the 40th anniversary of the world's most powerful slave empire and the farewell party in honor of our former minister of defense, Marshal Georgi Zhukov." He was removed from his post a week ago.

as I don't care about her husband at all, and want her to know it. But she complains if the boy rings me up, and about the noise of his car when he brings me home; so now he doesn't call any more and drops me off down the street.

I could give you many more instances of her sharpness and nagging. Should I stay and support all this; or go? I am supposed to stay with this family for four months yet and don't like to break my word. Sometimes I think Mrs. R. will be happy when I leave her.

N. N.
DEAR N. N.: Mrs. R. isn't behaving very well, I grant. But in the event you ever find yourself in her shoes—with a husband and three children, and a winsome young household helper just out of her teens, who rather preens herself as your could-be rival—I imagine that you'll perform pretty much as she has recently.

Of course the crux of the matter is that Mr. R. is the elusive trouble-factor. He is more aware of you, in a person-to-person way, than the situation, or than courtesy, call for. And you are acknowledging his awareness, or playing up to it, with your own brand of psychological come-hither—without departing from propriety on the surface, perhaps.

Mrs. R., too, is aware of this interplay of awareness between her husband and you—and unhappy about it; and antagonistic to you because of it.

I think you could make things easier for yourself in the situation, if you were to put Mr. R. completely out of mind and cater exclusively to Mrs. R.—trying to please her and do right by her. By pleasing Mrs. R., I am sure you would please Mr. R. very well too, and with none of the tension that weighs on you now.

Your bill-of-particulars indicates that you probably wouldn't go out of your way to avoid camaraderie with Mr. R.—which puts the burden on Mrs. R. to run interference, in ungraceful ways. This necessity, which she resents, tends to sour her feeling for you. So don't blame her, any more than yourself and Mr. R., for the breakdown of a one-time pleasant employer-employee relationship.

As for what to do, my idea is, see it through. Stay on the job for the length of time promised. And meanwhile, be fair to Mrs. R.—in thought, word and act. That way you may part friends, with her good wishes, when you move on to a new situation.

U.N. Said Barrier Against New War

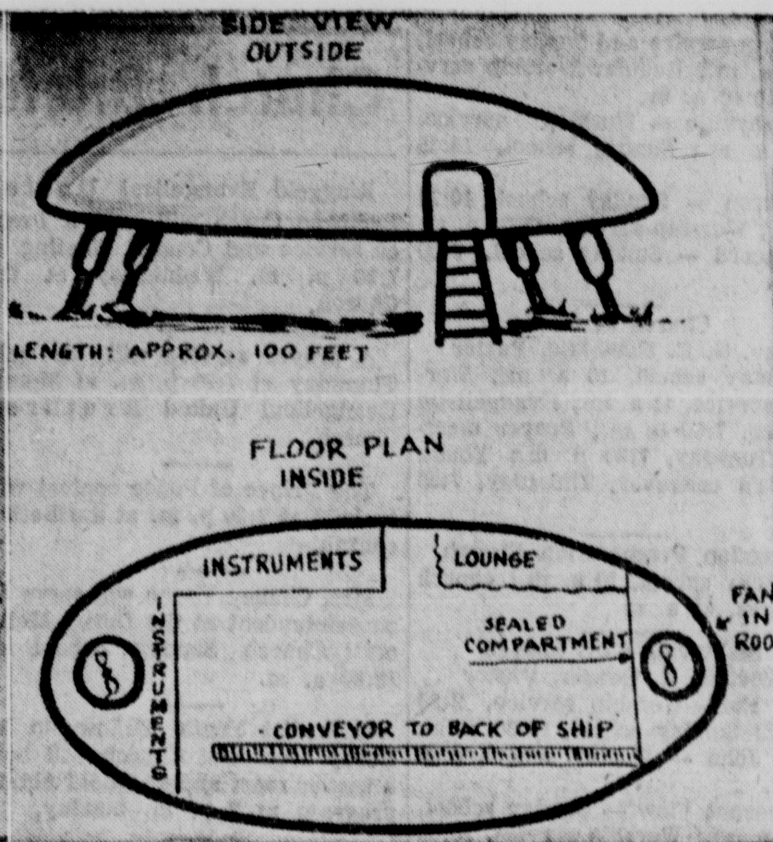

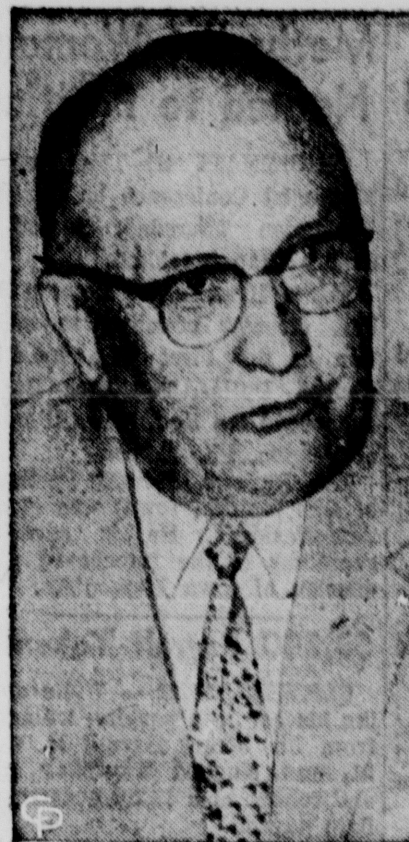

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The United Nations "has made the difference between the uneasy peace we now have and World War III," says the executive director of the American Assn. of the United Nations.

Clark Eichelberger, addressing a state-wide conference on world affairs here Thursday, urged union members to support the U.N. because, he said, it is the best hope for world peace.

About 300 delegates are attending the three-day conference. The conference, sponsored by the Ohio CIO Council and the Ohio State Federation of Labor in cooperation with the American Labor Education Service, ends today.

School Funds Taken

SANDUSKY (AP)—Receipts from the school cafeteria and from a benefit football game were stolen from a safe at Huron High School Thursday. Loss was estimated at $900.

ANY GRAIN OF TRUTH TO IT? — Reinhold Schmidt (left), a grain buyer from Bakersfield, Calif., sticks to his hair-raising story of seeing a space ship manned by a German-speaking crew of four men and two women. He insists the space ship landed near Kearney, Neb., and the crew invited him aboard. Schmidt drew this sketch (right) of the space ship. Sheriff Steve Warrick said he is certain Schmidt "saw nothing."

Women in Air Force Proud They Are Labeled 'Airmen'

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of five articles on the women's branches of the armed forces.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women in the Air Force underline the fact they serve with the Air Force "in duties essential to the nation's defense." They're even called "airmen."

The Wafs have been an integral part of the U. S. Air Force since it was separated from the Army in 1948. When there's a job to be filled, the assignment officer gets the airmen best qualified. Often it's a woman.

The corps' Waf-ROTC program is unique among the women's military services. The program was inaugurated in 10 colleges over the country in the fall of 1956. In each institution a Waf officer is replacing a man as assistant professor of air science and tactics.

Enlisted and officer candidate Wafs get their training along with men at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

During World War II some 40,000 Air Wafs served with the Army Air Forces. In peacetime, they comprise a "mobilization pattern for the rapid and orderly expansion that would be required during a national emergency."

Active peacetime strength is about 615 officers and 8,000 enlisted women. Wafs are serving with major air commands in the United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, England, France, Germany and Italy.

No Waf is allowed to fly, though many are licensed pilots. The only Wafs allowed to wear wings and get flight pay are the limited number assigned as flight traffic specialists. Their jobs are comparable to those of commercial air line stewardesses. They fly on trans-oceanic flights of the Military Air Transport Service.

Good-looking, blue-eyed, 5-foot-6 Col. Emma Jane Riley, 45, of Plattsburg, Mo., is the new Waf director. She succeeded Col. Phyllis D. Gray, who was awarded the Legion of Merit for her services.

Col. Riley commanded 800 troops abroad as Waf staff director of the USAF in Europe from 1956 until her appointment.

The King Ranch in Texas plans to open a 5,000-acre tract to public hunting on a nominal fee basis.

Lockbourne Airman Held in Robberies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Russell Ray McElroy, a 22-year-old airman stationed at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base, has been charged with armed robbery in connection with recent cab robberies in Columbus, suburban Whitehall and at the base.

Police said McElroy, from Morgantown, W. Va., admitted 12 holdups since Sept. 9. He was arrested Thursday.

Ike Sends Best Wishes For Soviet Celebration

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower extended good wishes to the Russian people Thursday on their national holiday.

He telegraphed Marshal Klement E. Voroshilov, chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet Union. Friday was the 40th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

60 Buckeye Lake Acres To Be Sold

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Natural Resources Commission has authorized the Department of Natural Resources to dispose of 60 of the 3,300 acres of land owned by the state at Buckeye Lake.

The land is in densely built up areas and includes Keller, Borchard and Round Islands. Much of the land lies along the north embankment of the lake.

The next step is for the department to offer the land to other state agencies. If other state agencies do not want it it will be appraised and offered to persons who have cottages on it at 110 per cent of the appraised value.

Congressmen Differ On Eisenhower Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio congressmen reached for comment Thursday night divided along party lines in their evaluation of President Eisenhower's speech.

Rep. Wayne L. Hayes, a Democrat, said:

"It's the same old story—appoint a committee to study the problem and hope the problem will go away."

Rep. Clarence J. Brown, a Republican, praised the talk:

"I thought he outlined an interesting and well rounded program for consideration of Congress and the American people and was very frank about the situation."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am only a housemaid, past 21, brought here from Europe—looking after three boys and doing all the housework. All was fine the first year; but now my employer (call her Mrs. R.) is nagging about my work, my outings, friends, everything. The only reason I can give for this change is that she is jealous. She could be good-looking if she had more taste in clothes, but she doesn't care about fashion, and I am quite the opposite. I am pretty, attractive, simple. I wear little or no makeup, don't talk much, like to be tidy, and get lots of compliments from men—but don't care for them.

Mr. R. is a very nice man who gives me English lessons once or twice a week (which he suggests); and he buys me every week a magazine or newspaper from my country—but the same for his wife. Also, and we trade. In the living room she always manages to seat me far from her husband; and never leaves us together, even with the children. Once she had to be away overnight and summoned her sister-in-law to stay here.

Now I have to be home by midnight; once when I came in at 12:30 she made such a fuss that I almost stopped going out. At parties I have to watch the time and excuse myself and naturally my boy friend has to leave too. Mrs. R. knows the boy and his family, whom I usually see on my day off.

Ashville

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dore have been ill this week with the flu. Mrs. Harry Rife, Jr. is teaching the sixth grade of the Ashville School during Mrs. Dore's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Irwin were called to Leesburg, Ohio, Sunday by the death of a brother-in-law, Cleve Eyre. Funeral services for Mr. Eyre were held Wednesday.

Everett Mehrlay, local vocal music instructor, was unable to meet classes Monday because of an attack of the flu.

Benis Lutz has selected the cast for the senior class play and is ready to begin rehearsals.

Junior high cheerleaders, chosen by a high school committee, are as follows: Barbara Kennedy, Kathy Stout and Nancy Featheringham of the eighth grade and Diane Boyer of the seventh grade.

The annual Halloween school carnival, sponsored by the P.T.A., scheduled for last Friday, was cancelled because of the flu. A harvest festival and supper has been arranged for Saturday, Nov. 16.

Ashville's final football game of the season has been cancelled by Summit Station because of the flu at the Licking County School. As a result the Ashville basketball players will begin practice a few days sooner.

2 More Aides Quit in Clark County Fuss

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Virgil Phenix, assistant superintendent of the Clark County Children's home, and his wife, matron at the home, have resigned effective Nov. 20.

They submitted their resignations Thursday, following similar resignations earlier this week by three other officials.

Lester B. Boggs and his wife resigned as superintendent and matron Tuesday and Kenneth L. Rush, chairman of the Clark County Child Welfare Board, resigned Wednesday. The Welfare Board operates the children's home.

Boggs said he and his wife resigned because the five-man Welfare Board ordered them to resume residency at the children's home. They had been living away from the home since February. Rush, one of two members who voted against the order, resigned in protest.

Phenix, who has accepted a post as manager of maintenance at the Methodist Children's Home at Worthington, said he would not have resigned had Mr. and Mrs. Boggs stayed on.

Concerning Spiritual Gifts

EACH ONE HAS SOME TALENT TO BE USED IN GOD'S SERVICE

Scripture—1 Corinthians 12-14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
DR. WILLIAM M. SMITH states that the first chapter listed in today's lesson is one of the most important in all the New Testament. I agree with him. He suggests too that the younger classes and the older ones too, introduce it by the teachers allowing the pupils to name as many different types of workers in their own church as they can think of.

First would be the preacher, then the organizer of the Sunday school, next the teachers, the church treasurer, the organist, choir singers, elders, deacons, trustees and church visitors. Each does his or her best to make a well rounded church organization.

I would suggest, too, for the younger members of the class, those in primary schools, that they list the talents, or gifts of members of their own schools. There are children who have special gifts for arithmetic; others who excel in reading, writing, spelling, etc.

Each of the children in one room has something that distinguishes him or her from the others. If it is not in the school's curriculum, these might be good nature, thoughtfulness of others, obedience to the school rules, etc.

Paul knew the people of the Corinthian church well, and he points out their diversified gifts or talents, but all should have the same spirit, he wrote, for God is the same "which worketh all in all."

There were people in the church who had wisdom; others with knowledge; another faith in the Spirit. Another might have the gift of healing; another of working miracles; still another the gift of prophecy. Others had diverse kinds of tongues, and others who could interpret these mysterious tongues. "But all the same worketh that one and the same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will."

Then Paul likens the church to our bodies, which are made of many parts, each being necessary to all the others, but connected in one body.

tinuing to be one body, in which if one part suffers, the whole body is in pain. So should the church of God be. God has set some in the church for one purpose, "apostles, secondary prophets, teachers and others." We cannot all be like these others, but we can all work together for Christ by doing the best we can with our own gifts, not coveting those of others.

In the 13th chapter, Paul reminds us of the importance of love in all our lives, but we have had that chapter in a previous lesson, so cannot dwell on it here, only to be reminded once again how important love is in all our activities throughout our lives. "Follow charity (love), and desire after spiritual gifts," is the first verse of Chapter 14 of this epistle and our memory verse.

Paul likens words spoken—not in unknown tongues, but in words easily understood—to musical instruments. He says, "And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?"

"For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle? So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak unto the air."

"God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints," Paul wrote.

"We cannot all have the best gifts," wrote W. E. Vine, "We can seek God's grace and help to desire them and by prayer and humble obedience to His will and the leading of the Spirit, and by placing ourselves at His disposal, being content with what He gives us or withholds, we shall find that He will use us for His glory."

Let all the pupils, young and older, be urged to follow Mr. Vine's advice, and see what we can do for our church and in our everyday lives, try to help bring the Kingdom of God nearer.

Chips Down This Weekend On Gridiron

It's Put Up or Shut Up
For Both Underdogs,
Favorites Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This college football season, one of the best ever, now comes up with a weekend that plunks the underdogs on the spot along with the favorites. It's put up or shut up for most everybody.

The big games Saturday are Texas A&M-SMU, Oklahoma-Missouri, Auburn-Mississippi State, Iowa-Minnesota, Ohio State-Purdue, Navy-Duke, Tennessee-Georgia Tech, Michigan State-Notre Dame and Oregon-Washington. Just about all of them have a double angle.

Texas A&M, No. 1 again in The Associated Press poll, probably has had its scare for the year (last week's 7-6 decision at Arkansas) and is a two-TD favorite. Southern Methodist, putting in a late bid for the Southwest Conference title and a bowl berth must knock off the Aggies to make the bid bud.

Oklahoma's sub-par Sooners, finding summer soldiers among the supporters who have beaten the drums through 46 consecutive victories, must win big against Missouri to retain their national prestige. Mizzou, grown ambitions after winning four in a row, must knock off the Sooners to swipe the Orange Bowl spot.

Auburn, giving Oklahoma a battle for second place in the poll, is at least a touchdown pick in its big bid for a perfect season and the Southeastern Conference title. But Mississippi State must look good in this one for any chance at a bowl shot.

Iowa, knocked out of the Big Ten lead by last week's tie with Michigan, is a touchdown favorite as the Hawkeyes eye a repeat crown although barred from the Rose Bowl repeat. Minnesota, twice beaten but still hopeful of the Rose Bowl bid since the Gophers play one more game than Ohio State and Michigan State, must win this one to stay alive. Tennessee, a touchdown favorite, has lost only to Auburn but can't lose another and retain a crack at one of those bowl berths. Georgia Tech, poking its nose in with last week's upset of Duke, must win the rest of the way for a seventh consecutive bowl appearance.

Michigan State, favored by two TDs, is working on a comeback up the top 10 list after that upset by Purdue three weeks ago. Notre Dame, knocked off by Navy last week and facing Oklahoma next week, must win this one in its comeback try from last season's poor showing.

Ohio State can't afford to breathe easy against Purdue if the Buckeyes are to retain the Big Ten lead and an edge in the race to the Rose Bowl. Navy, with an eye on another bowl bid, proved it had the stuff against Notre Dame, now must prove it knows what to do with it against Duke's Blue Devils, who have the Atlantic Coast Conference bid to the Orange Bowl in the bag.

Oregon, having whipped the other eligibles, could clinch the Pacific Coast Conference's approval for the Rose Bowl by defeating Washington.

High School Halts Payments For Athletic-Type Injuries

Effective Monday the Circleville High School Athletic Assn. no longer will pay medical, dental or hospital bills incurred by players involved in school athletic events.

According to the athletic board each boy planning to play any sport at Circleville High School must have insurance covering injuries.

Officials pointed out that the athletic assn. has a limited amount of money to spend to keep the sports program functioning at CHS.

They explained that money taken from gate receipts barely pays the high cost of purchasing the safest and most protective equipment available for the local athletic program. In the past two or three years medical bills have been so heavy that the athletic financial situation now is in the red.

BOARD members said that a reliable company has been found which, for a very low rate, will do the job the athletic assn. has been trying to do for years—relieve parents of an unwelcome medical bill.

Present cost of insurance with this company is $1.50 for anyone engaged in basketball, track, baseball or any other sport except football. Cost for boys playing football is $7.50. An equivalent contract with another company would be satisfactory.

This plan also insures the athletes while they are in school, on their way to and from school and on any athletic trip or occasion when they are engaged in a school activity. Many CHS students not participating in athletics are covered by this plan.

Boys who plan to play football may pay their $1.50 now and get coverage for everything except the grid sport. When football practice starts next year they may pay $6 which will cover them through the season.

The athletic board is sending a letter explaining this plan to all parents of boys intending to participate in athletics at CHS.

Baseball Moguls Very Mum About Pacific Coast Setup

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick and other baseball officials had a go at figuring out a realignment for the indispensed Pacific Coast League Thursday. But if they hit on a plan, they hung it in a closet to see if it rattles before making it public.

All that was announced after the meeting was a statement saying (1) the meeting had been held, (2) who attended, and (3) they will meet here again Tuesday.

The session was so hush-hush Frick's office even refused to name the hotel on the northwest corner of Lexington and 42nd St. where the meeting was held.

While Frick did go so far as to say "a number of possibilities were considered which representatives at the meeting will take back to their leagues and clubs for their views," the only note that perked up the day was the fact Texas League and American Assn. representatives sat in on the conference.

That bears out predictions that any realignment of the PCL could set off a chain reaction throughout most of the minor league structure.

Denver, of the American Assn. and Dallas, of the Texas League, have been prominent in guesses as to where the PCL will land now that the National League has moved into Los Angeles and San Francisco with the Dodgers and Giants.

If those two cities are to serve as substitutes for the PCL, only two thirds of the league's problem is solved, however. The Hollywood club also will have to scramble out of the Los Angeles area. Salt Lake City, a onetime PCL franchise, or Phoenix have been nominated as the third replacement.

It was learned, however, that the Texas League was not directly involved in Thursday's discussion. And the American Assn. representative was excused from the meeting before it got down to hard facts.

Leslie O'Connor, president of the PCL, said afterward "All I can say is that we can only hope and see what happens."

Ed Doherty, president of the American Assn., upheld the sececy pact, but when questioned did say "We won't give up Denver easily."

Others at the meeting were Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants; Charles Feeney, vice-president of the Giants; E. J.

High School Gridder Hurt, Needs Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Quarterback Dave Metro, 17, of the Brunswick High football team, was injured seriously Thursday night in his team's 7-0 loss to North Royalton.

Unable to get off a pass, he started to run and was tackled by a player whose head struck him in the stomach, Coach Kermi Smulbach said. He underwent surgery today.

An infraction of this rule may be penalized five yards whether or not the ball is snapped.

On the other hand, after the ball is ready for play and until it is snapped, no player on the defense may touch the ball.

This college football season, one of the best ever, now comes up with a weekend that plunks the underdogs on the spot along with the favorites. It's put up or shut up for most everybody.

BOARD members said that a reliable company has been found which, for a very low rate, will do the job the athletic assn. has been trying to do for years—relieve parents of an unwelcome medical bill.

Present cost of insurance with this company is $1.50 for anyone engaged in basketball, track, baseball or any other sport except football. Cost for boys playing football is $7.50. An equivalent contract with another company would be satisfactory.

This plan also insures the athletes while they are in school, on their way to and from school and on any athletic trip or occasion when they are engaged in a school activity. Many CHS students not participating in athletics are covered by this plan.

Boys who plan to play football may pay their $1.50 now and get coverage for everything except the grid sport. When football practice starts next year they may pay $6 which will cover them through the season.

The athletic board is sending a letter explaining this plan to all parents of boys intending to participate in athletics at CHS.

Baseball Moguls Very Mum About Pacific Coast Setup

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick and other baseball officials had a go at figuring out a realignment for the indisposed Pacific Coast League Thursday. But if they hit on a plan, they hung it in a closet to see if it rattles before making it public.

All that was announced after the meeting was a statement saying (1) the meeting had been held, (2) who attended, and (3) they will meet here again Tuesday.

The session was so hush-hush Frick's office even refused to name the hotel on the northwest corner of Lexington and 42nd St. where the meeting was held.

While Frick did go so far as to say "a number of possibilities were considered which representatives at the meeting will take back to their leagues and clubs for their views," the only note that perked up the day was the fact Texas League and American Assn. representatives sat in on the conference.

That bears out predictions that any realignment of the PCL could set off a chain reaction throughout most of the minor league structure.

Denver, of the American Assn. and Dallas, of the Texas League, have been prominent in guesses as to where the PCL will land now that the National League has moved into Los Angeles and San Francisco with the Dodgers and Giants.

Demon Hanover Colts Net $39,000, $25,000

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gay Acres Farm of Wooster, Ohio, sold two colts sired by Demon Hanover for $39,000 and $25,000 Thursday at the Standard Bred Horse Sale. Demon Hanover sold last week for a half-million.

Purchasers Thursday were Allwood Stable, Far Hills, N. J., and ABC Stable, N. Y.

Bob Buhl, although knocked out in his two World Series starts against the Yankees, had a nine-game winning streak for Milwaukee from July 18th to Sept. 21.

Traffic safety posters around the golf course in the town of Christchurch, England, say: "Good Driving Matters."

If those two cities are to serve as substitutes for the PCL, only two thirds of the league's problem is solved, however. The Hollywood club also will have to scramble out of the Los Angeles area. Salt

TQ Races Open At Ohio Coliseum

Midget auto racing will be featured on five consecutive Saturday nights starting tomorrow in the Ohio State Fairgrounds coliseum.

Races will include the three-quarter autos of the Buckeye "TQ" Racing Assn. Eight events will be scheduled nightly with time trials opening at 7 p. m. Tickets may be secured at the door.

Lake City, a onetime PCL franchise, or Phoenix have been nominated as the third replacement. It was learned, however, that the Texas League was not directly involved in Thursday's discussion. And the American Assn. representative was excused from the meeting before it got down to hard facts.

Leslie O'Connor, president of the PCL, said afterward "All I can say is that we can only hope and see what happens."

Ed Doherty, president of the American Assn., upheld the secrecy pact, but when questioned did say "We won't give up Denver easily."

Others at the meeting were Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants; Charles Feeney, vice-president of the Giants; E. J.

"Buzzy" Bavasi, vice president of the Dodgers; Dick Butler, president of the Texas League; Dewey Soriano, general manager of Seattle; Clyde Perkins, vice president of Portland; and George Trautman, president of the National Assn. (Minors).

High School Griddier Hurt, Needs Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Quarterback Dave Metro, 17, of the Brunswick High football team, was injured seriously Thursday night in his team's 7-0 loss to North Royalton.

Unable to get off a pass, he started to run and was tackled by a player whose head struck him in the stomach, Coach Kermit Smulbach said. He underwent surgery today.

IT'S THE RULE

By Central Press Association
AFTER assuming his position for the snap of the ball and adjusting the pigskin, the center may neither move nor change the position of the ball in a manner simulating the beginning of play until he snaps it.

An infraction of this rule may be penalized five yards whether or not the ball is snapped.

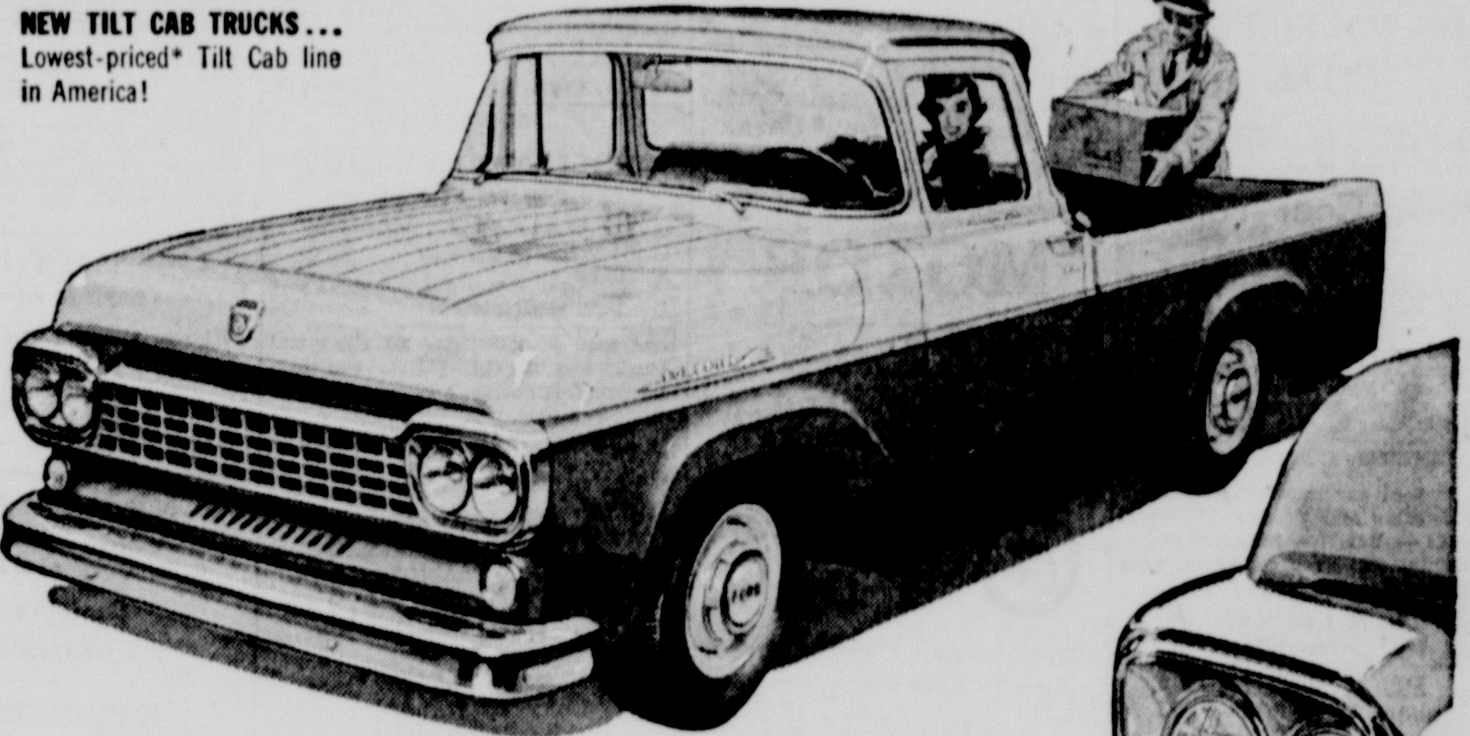

On the other hand, after the ball is ready for play and until it is snapped, no player on the defense may touch the ball.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Thomas Darrell Fausnaugh, who passed away one year ago today, Nov. 8, 1956.
You cannot say you must not say that he is dead. He is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand he has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since he lingers there. So think of him faring on, as dear in the love of those as the love of here. Think of him still as the same, and say he is just away.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Thomas Darrell Fausnaugh, who passed away one year ago today, Nov. 8, 1956.
You cannot say, you must not say that he is dead. He is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand he has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be since he lingers there. So think of him faring on, as dear. In the love of There as the love of Here. Think of him still as the same, and say.
He is not dead, he is just away.
Mother—Mary E. Funk
Brother FFC James R. Fausnaugh

Warrior '5'

Set for Bid In Pro Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The talk around the National Basketball Assn. so far has been all Boston Celtics, undefeated in their first seven games, and seemingly a cinch to repeat as NBA champs. But wait, the Philadelphia Warriors are trying to get a word in edgewise.

The Warriors have three games in the next three days to Boston's one, and victories in all three could give them something to talk about. Particularly, since the Warriors opened the heavy work schedule with a 113-101 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in the NBA's only game Thursday night.

Cincinnati could help by beating Boston tonight.

The Warriors have an eye on the calendar too, counting the days until former rookie sensation Tom Gola is discharged from the Army.

Gola led the Warriors to the 1956 NBA championship.

They solved one problem when they bought rookie Woody Sauldsberry from the Harlem Globetrotters.

Oregon Draws Near To Rose Bowl Bid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Len Casanova's Oregon Webfoots can wrap up the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl bid Saturday in Portland with a victory over the University of Washington Huskies.

A triumph would give Oregon a 6-0 record in the PCC and a two-game lead with only two games left—against Southern California and Oregon State. Even if Oregon lost those last two, which is doubtful, the Ducks would get the Pasadena bid.

Washington State and Stanford, already losers of two games, have each been defeated by the Webfoots. They are the only other two teams in the running.

He scored 18 points Thursday night and crashed a New York rally in the third quarter with his shooting.

The Warriors' Neil Johnston led all scorers with 34 points, his best night of the season. Kenny Sears led New York with 18.

Solon Asks Probe Of Pro Boxing

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—A Michigan congressman today called for a congressional investigation of professional boxing and suggested some form of federal control over the sport.

Rep. Robert T. Griffin (R-Mich.) said boxing appears to be "controlled by a few manipulators who have and exercise unbridled power to freeze out deserving boxers."

Griffin made the charge in a letter to the seven members of the anti-trust subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee. The group has been investigating professional sports.

Steelers Set For Big Drive At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Their game with the Cleveland Browns in the Stadium here Sunday shapes up to be the big one of this National Football League season for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The standings show why. If the Steelers can win (and they'll be one-touchdown underdogs) they will be tied with the Browns for the league's Eastern Division leadership. It could be a three-way tie, involving the New York Giants, if the Giants beat the Chicago Cardinals.

But if Pittsburgh loses, they would have to pick up two full games on the Browns to earn even a tie for the right to go into the championship playoffs. With only five games left after Sunday, the odds on such a late-season surge are long indeed.

For this "big one," the Steelers are in a good position to go all out, because they have no scheduled game the following Sunday. That means extra time to rest up and heal bumps and bruises. The 1957 NFL schedule has Pittsburgh closing the regular season against the Cardinals Sunday, Dec. 22.

The coming contest adds up to Earl Morrall, the NFL passer whose throws add up to more yardage than that of any other NFL quarterback so far this season, vs. the Cleveland Browns' pass defense, which is the league's stingiest.

Ike's Call for NATO Study Certain To Get OK by Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for creation of a NATO scientific committee to speed the sharing of knowledge among Allied nations seemed assured today of enthusiastic acceptance by the European allies.

The test of Eisenhower's leadership on this issue will come in persuading Congress to grant him the necessary authority to share secret atomic weapons information.

He is expected to face more opposition on the issue in Congress than at a December meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. Eisenhower will head the U. S. delegation.

Eisenhower's main argument to congressional leaders was indicated Thursday night in his broadcast speech on measures designed to recover for the United States the lead in missile-era weapons which the Soviets demonstrated by their successful launching of earth satellites.

"In the free world," Eisenhower said, "we all have a lot to give and a lot to gain security through the pooling of scientific effort."

Why should we deny to our friends information that we are sure the Soviets already have?—information our friends could use toward our mutual security.

"Why for want of the fullest practicable sharing, should we waste American research funds and talent struggling with technological problems already mastered by our friends?"

He projected two moves bearing on Allied relationships in the scientific field. He said he would ask Congress to "remove legal barriers to the exchange of appropriate technological information with friendly countries."

If this authority is granted, he went on, he would support organization of a scientific committee within NATO "to carry out an enlarged Atlantic effort in research."

A similar group could possibly be set up within the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and other alliances, he suggested.

He also said that Secretary of State Dulles would appoint a science adviser in the State Department and science attaches in "appropriate" U. S. embassies abroad.

The State Department has had an office of science adviser for several years. The position presently is held by Walter M. Rudolph, a career State Department official who is primarily an economist. The President's statement indicated that he expects Dulles to put a trained scientist in the job and to give him authority for dealing with the proposed new NATO committee and with the United States in all fields of science and technology. The British particularly have sought to restore the World War II partnership of Britain, the United States and Canada which by intensive joint effort produced history's first atomic bomb.

Some administration officials consider relaxation of congressional restrictions on atomic secrets to be one of the keys to the whole broad range of allied cooperation.

They are by no means certain at the moment, however, whether Congress will go along.

Official Count Given On Twp. School Vote

After a recount in the balloting in Tuesday's election Judson Beougher was declared the third member of the new Logn Elm School District for a four year term. Ralph Betz was reported winner in the earlier returns, but later checking found that he had been defeated 250 to 220. Leading in the New Holland race for board of education are Earl S. Arnold, 183, Lowell Marvin, 184, and Wendell Kirk, 71. Until the Fayette county board of elections reports the total vote for three townships bordering New Holland the official tally cannot be given.

Pierce, 114. Wayne — Dowden and Parmer tied with 69 votes, and Cupp had 81. The tie will be broken with a flip of the coin. Circleville Shellhamer.

Few Changes In Muny Vote

In the official results of Tuesday's election a few changes were found in Circleville's municipal races. None of the changes reversed yesterday's reports of winning candidates.

President of Council Richard Penn dropped 17 votes in Ward 1B and reduced his total count to 1090. 1B's incorrect total also reduced Treasurer Everett Stocklen's victory to 1196.

Councilman at Large Joe Bell gained a vote in 2B to run his total to 937. First Ward councilman Kirkpatrick dropped 24 votes in 1C and five tallies in 1F to reduce his total to 616. Second ward councilman William Wyatt increased his Incorrect totals were also registered in 1C for Judge Lamb who dropped 30 votes to leave his municipal total at 1311.

Mrs. Heine and Carl Leist also dropped votes in 1C to reduce their totals to 1135 and 1114 respectively.

Circleville also gave Lawrence Liston 1087 votes and Edison Shellhamer 1015. Constable Harry Timmons received 977 local votes.

Ike's Call for NATO Study Certain To Get OK by Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for creation of a NATO scientific committee to speed the sharing of knowledge among Allied nations seemed assured today of enthusiastic acceptance by the European allies.

The test of Eisenhower's leadership on this issue will come in persuading Congress to grant him the necessary authority to share secret atomic weapons information.

He is expected to face more opposition on the issue in Congress than at a December meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. Eisenhower will head the U. S. delegation.

Eisenhower's main argument to congressional leaders was indicated Thursday night in his broadcast speech on measures designed to recover for the United States the lead in missile-era weapons which the Soviets demonstrated by their successful launching of earth satellites.

"In the free world," Eisenhower said, "we all have a lot to give and a lot to gain security through the pooling of scientific effort.

Why should we deny to our friends information that we are sure the Soviets already have?—information our friends could use toward our mutual security.

"Why for want of the fullest practicable sharing, should we waste American research funds and talent struggling with technological problems already mastered by our friends?"

He projected two moves bearing on Allied relationships in the scientific field. He said he would ask Congress to "remove legal barriers to the exchange of appropriate technological information with friendly countries."

If this authority is granted, he went on, he would support organization of a scientific committee within NATO "to carry out an enlarged Atlantic effort in research."

A similar group could possibly be set up within the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and other alliances, he suggested.

He also said that Secretary of State Dulles would appoint a science adviser in the State Department and science attaches in "appropriate" U. S. embassies abroad.

The State Department has had an office of science adviser for several years. The position presently is held by Walter M. Rudolph, a career State Department official who is primarily an economist. The President's statement indicated that he expects Dulles to put a trained scientist in the job and to give him authority for dealing with the proposed new NATO committee and with the United States in all fields of science and technology. The British particularly have sought to restore the World War II partnership of Britain, the United States and Canada which by intensive joint effort produced history's first atomic bomb.

Some administration officials consider relaxation of congressional restrictions on atomic secrets to be one of the keys to the whole broad range of allied cooperation.

They are by no means certain at the moment, however, whether Congress will go along.

Few Changes In Muny Vote

In the official results of Tuesday's election a few changes were found in Circleville's municipal races. None of the changes reversed yesterday's reports of winning candidates.

President of Council Richard Penn dropped 17 votes in Ward 1B and reduced his total count to 1090. 1B's incorrect total also reduced Treasurer Everett Stocklen's victory to 1196.

Councilman at Large Joe Bell gained a vote in 2B to run his total to 937. First Ward councilman Kirkpatrick dropped 24 votes in 1C and five tallies in 1F to reduce his total to 616. Second ward councilman William Wyatt increased his
